

THE GOVERNOR'S STAFF HAS BEEN ANNOUNCED

The List of Military Aides of the Next Chief Executive of Ohio Is Now Complete.

COLONEL WEYBRECHT THE RANKING OFFICER

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, December 26.—Private Secretary Galloway has returned from Cleveland and announced the personnel of the new military staff of Governor-elect Herrick. That splendid soldier, Colonel Charles C. Weybrecht, lieutenant commander of the Eighth regiment, Ohio National Guard, of Alliance, is honored by being made ranking member of the staff, his name appearing first on the list. This is a rare distinction and one which will give great pleasure to National Guard officers and men throughout the state with whom Colonel Weybrecht is universally popular. The unanimous verdict in military circles will be that his selection as head of the staff is a most happy one.

The men of the Eighth, with which command Colonel Weybrecht won his spurs, idolize him. He has been with the command almost 20 years, and it was during the war against Spain that his soldierly qualities and thoughtful consideration of the interests of his men appeared to the best advantage, endearing him deep in their hearts. His magnificent military physique always draws much attention and well befits him for a staff position.

The East Liverpool Spanish-American veterans who served under Colonel Weybrecht in Cuba thought so much of him that they named the organization they formed after him. In Colonel Weybrecht the military spirit is exemplified to a high degree and his presence on the staff will add much dignity to it. It seems that Governor-elect Herrick is imbued with the idea that the men of the Eighth are made of the right stuff because not only does he take the leader of his staff from that command, but he goes to it for his adjutant general, Major A. B. Critchfield, of Shreve, another fine and popular soldier. Though formal announcement has not been made of his selection for this exalted office, it is just as certain as anything can be that he will get the appointment.

AID WAS GIVEN

THE UNFORTUNATE

SALVATION ARMY LOOKED AFTER THE WANTS OF THE POOR.

Christmas Cheer Carried to Homes That Santa Claus Might Have Overlooked.

There was no suffering in East Liverpool yesterday from lack of food. Every poor family in the city, or those, who through misfortune or other cause, could not procure sustenance, were cared for by the Salvation Army. More than 50 baskets were distributed and it is estimated that more than 250 mouths were fed.

The distribution of the baskets was not accomplished without a great deal of work on the part of the Salvationists. The first steps were taken by the relief sergeants a number of days ago, when they made a thorough canvass of the city to learn where relief was needed. Many needy families were reported to the Army barracks and if the investigation warranted they were cared for.

Another part of the work was securing the eatables to fill the baskets. Members of the Army solicited among the business men and citizens for a number of days and what was lacking was added from the funds of the Army. The day before Christmas, when the baskets were filled, was a busy one. A dozen persons were kept busy until almost midnight placing the different articles in the baskets. The baskets made it possible for the recipients to have quite as good a dinner as those in more fortunate circumstances. In each basket was a chicken, big enough for a family of five, and other things, such as potatoes and bread in proportion. Long before sunrise Christmas morning members of the Army started upon the work of delivery and had finished before the first of the day.

Long before sunrise Christmas morning members of the Army started upon the work of delivery and had finished before the first of the day.

Major Critchfield is the choice of the officers of the Ohio National Guard for the place. At the last annual encampment the adjutant generalship matter was canvassed and when put to a vote it was found Major Critchfield was the unanimous choice of the officers for the office. The major is an efficient and enthusiastic military man and his administration, with the hearty co-operation he will have from the whole guard, will undoubtedly be very successful.

The appointees are all taken from the National Guard. Every branch of the service is recognized—infantry, cavalry, artillery and engineers. Geographically also the appointees are well selected. In confining the members of the staff to the National Guard Governor-elect Herrick is setting a precedent which will lead to the enactment of a law requiring all future governors' staffs to be made up of National Guard officers. In fact, a bill is now being drafted which will be presented to the legislature providing for this and which will be enacted into a law during the first week of the session, so that the staff of Governor-elect Herrick will be subject to its regulations. By enacting it before the new governor is inducted into office this will be possible.

Governor-elect Herrick's new staff is as follows: Lieutenant Colonel Charles C. Weybrecht, Eighth infantry, Alliance; Lieutenant Colonel Byron L. Barger, Fourth infantry, Columbus; Major George W. Cunningham, Sixth infantry, Fostoria; Captain Frederick M. Fanning, First battalion engineers, Cleveland; Captain Julius A. Blais, Battery A, Cleveland; Captain James H. Williams, Fifth infantry, Norwalk; Captain Robert L. Dunning, First infantry, Cincinnati; Captain George H. Wood, Third infantry, Dayton; Captain Harry S. Knox, Seventh infantry, Marietta; First Lieutenant Harry S. Moulton, Second infantry, Lima; Second Lieutenant Otto Miller, Troop A, Cleveland.

ished before the hour for starting the fire to cook Christmas dinner.

That the work was so thoroughly done is due in a great measure to the excellent organization that Adjutant Snider and his fellow officers have built up. There are more active workers than ever before and the membership is larger than at any time during the past ten years.

DOUBTERS CONVINCED

Santa Claus Appeared in Full Costume And Delighted Many Youngsters.

John B. Birch, the man who acts as Santa Claus' agent in supplying Christmas trees, delighted the hearts of scores of youngsters who were signing for a glimpse of St. Nicholas. On Christmas evening a figure dressed in polar bear skins and looking as if he might have just arrived from the north pole went around to the houses where Mr. Birch had sold Christmas trees and greeted the youthful inmates. Invited inside he bestowed candy and talked without reserve.

Numerous youngsters, skeptical of the subject of Santa Claus, were convinced by this visit that the old gentleman is still alive and doing business.

Mr. Porte's associates join with the patrons of the New Grand in the hope that he will make East Liverpool his permanent home.

DELIGHTFUL TIME FOR ALL

After the busiest and most prosperous holiday season in the history of the East Liverpool postoffice had been encountered and the vast volume of business disposed of to the satisfaction of the chief, with the tremendous tension of the past two weeks completely relieved and remembered only as a condition met and successfully accomplished, the members of the local postoffice force sat down to and thoroughly enjoyed an elaborate banquet last night with Postmaster W. H. Surles as host. The affair was planned and successfully carried out by Mr. Surles, and was intended as a reminder to the efficient staff that their efforts were appreciated by him.

Superb Programs Carried Out—Old Santa Claus Delighted the Hearts of Many Hundreds of Youngsters. White Christmas After All.

Every church edifice in the city, at which Christmas entertainments were given, was crowded last night with children from the Sunday schools, their parents, older brothers and sisters, friends and acquaintances. The evening was a fitting close to the most generally observed Christmas day in many years. The streets in the central part of town generally deserted during the greater part of the day, teemed with humanity at the hour for the exercises to commence. The weather man, after sending a March day, relented in the evening, and it was a "white Christmas" after all. The programs, as published in the News Review on Thursday, were carried out and proved highly entertaining. In nearly every instance the programs were more elaborate and on a larger scale than ever before attempted. The little ones came in for the most consideration, they being remembered with candy, nuts and presents and for the most part were the performers.

J. G. Reinartz, delivered a very eloquent address, taking the appropriate text: "No Room For Him in the Inn." The Christmas tree, richly decorated, upon which the presents for the children were placed, was one of the largest ever used for this city, measuring 19 feet in height. The thank offering for the poor, made at the service, amounted to more than $50.

DR. A. L. ROBINSON'S HURT PROVED FATAL AT LAST

Dr. A. L. Robinson, a well known physician of Wellsville, died at the home of his sister in New Castle, Pa., Christmas day. His death was due to injuries received by falling from a street car in Wellsville December 14.

He was taken to a hospital in Pittsburgh, where he remained until December 24, when he was pronounced out of danger. He left Pittsburgh for New Castle Thursday evening to visit his sister. He walked from the station to the home of his sister and in a short time was taken ill.

A physician was called, who told him that he was in no danger. Friday afternoon he was taken worse and the physician again was summoned, but ere he arrived Dr. Robinson had passed away.

Dr. Robinson was born in New Castle and was about 46 years old. He began the study of medicine in Cleveland in 1892 and was graduated in 1895. He located in Wellsville in 1896 and was very successful. He is said to be worth about $25,000. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but it is probable he will be buried in New Castle.

FIRE IN A GROCERY CAUSED $1,200 LOSS

The Blaze Did Little Harm, But Smoke and Water Ruined the Stock.

Lisbon, December 26.—(Special).—Fire started in Brinker Bros.' grocery store here at 4 o'clock this morning. It is supposed to have caught from an over-heated stove. The blaze caused little damage, but the entire stock is ruined by smoke and water. Insurance, $1,200, which will not cover the loss.

Licensed to Marry.
Lisbon, December 26.—(Special).—Jesse Edwin Trotter and Miss Ada Maude Shermerham, both of Salem, were granted a marriage license.

DRIVEN DELIRIOUS BY MUCH DRINK

Ed. Williams Became Very Violent and Narrowly Escaped Killing Several People.

TALES OF POLICE COURT

Of the half dozen men gathered in by the police on Christmas day, but one of them was out of the ordinary. He was Ed. Williams, a local teamster, and was "seeing things" so vividly that the police with what assistance they could press into service, had their hands full to control him.

Williams is said to have been drinking heavily for several days, and topped it off yesterday with a bad "bender." He went to his home on Second street early in the evening and shortly afterward was seized with delirium tremens. In some manner he secured an ax and came near killing several people. Word was sent to the city hall asking that handcuffs and ankle chains be brought along. Officer Dawson and Patrolmen Woods and Bryan responded and finally succeeded in overpowering the frantic man. A night of quiet in the jail served to subdue him, and he was released this morning upon the payment of $5 fine.

When the police court began its grind this morning Chief Wyman ushered in a man, or what seemed to be a man, who could be fittingly termed the "limit." His face resembled a blister, one side of it being skinned and swollen until it was raw. He was so filthy that it was nearly impossible to tell whether he was a white man or a negro.

"What is your name?" asked his honor.
"Didn't I give it to you last night?" asked the fellow.
"Not me," said the mayor.
"Well, then, what name did I give?" asked the man, concluding any name would do.

There were two men in jail, one giving the name of O'Neil and the other that of Lewis. What puzzled the mayor was, which was which, so he sent for Patrolman Woods to aid in identifying "it." Meantime an easier plan was hit upon. There were just two of them, and the other fellow was brought to the rail, and proved to be O'Neil, so the very wise conclusion was reached that "it" was Lewis, but this was wrong. He said his name was Dan Moore, and as Dan Moore he was fined $5. O'Neil said he was on his way to Salem to work on a railroad for another Frenchman named McGinty, but will postpone his going long enough to assist Dan Moore in cleaning up about the jail.

J. R. Offord was arrested by Officer Morris yesterday afternoon on a charge of drunkenness. He was placed behind the bars but was released later upon furnishing security for his appearance.

Charley Amos was a common drunk, and his case was disposed of yesterday. He was arrested by Officer Morris, and was assessed $5, which he arranged to pay.

Joseph "Rags" McKenna fell into the hands of Special Officer Vaughn Weaver at the theatre last night. He was charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct. He denied that he was drunk, but pleaded guilty to the disorderly conduct charge, and was fined $5, which he managed to pay.

ONE OF THE VICTIMS OF THE B. & O. DISASTER

Charles W. Gray, a Native of this City, Was Among Those Instantly Killed.

A POPULAR AND WELL KNOWN YOUNG MAN

Charles W. Gray, formerly of this city, was one of the victims of the terrible wreck at Dawson, Pa., which sent so many souls to eternity on Wednesday night of this week, when the Duquesne special, one of the fastest trains which travels over the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, ran into an obstruction, which resulted in horrible loss of life.

Mr. Gray had many friends among the young people of East Liverpool and had come from his home in Trenton, N. J., for the express purpose of paying a friendly visit to his numerous relatives. He had been employed previously to the removal of the family, about four years ago, to the east, in the Electric Porcelain works, and later he secured employment with Erlanger & Co. His services with both concerns was much appreciated. On his visit to this city, Mr. Erlanger was especially desirous of securing his services during the holidays, but Mr. Gray was anxious to spend the holidays at home and reluctantly decided to leave for Trenton.

During his stay in this city he was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. John Sant, of Fourth street, and on leaving her the matter of compelling attendance of all children within the school age, there has been a noticeable improvement in the condition of the school. The attendance this year is more than double that of last year and the directors have found it necessary to add a number of new seats. They will be installed next week.

Miss Creighton, the teacher, deserves a great deal of credit. She is well liked by the pupils and has succeeded in interesting them in school work. Before the school closed last Friday for the Christmas holiday, Miss Creighton gave her pupils a treat. A literary program was one of the features of the afternoon.

A $100,000 FIRE IN MARIETTA

A Blaze Wipes Out the Best Building in the Oldest City in Ohio.

Marietta, December 26.—(Special).—Fire early this morning destroyed the First National bank building, the finest in the city. It was occupied by a number of offices. The total loss is $100,000.

MOST IMPRESSIVE

Were the Christmas Day Services at St. Aloysius' Catholic Church.

Christmas services, beautiful and impressive, were held yesterday morning commencing at 10 o'clock and lasting until noon. A solemn high mass was celebrated, the celebrant being Rev. Father Mahan. He was assisted by Rev. Father Smyth and Rev. Father Schreffel, the latter of Holy Ghost college, Pittsburgh.

The musical part of the service was one of the most notable in the history of the church. Miss Elizabeth Hamill, the organist; Miss Margaret King, Miss Florence Thornberry, Miss Margaret Hamill, Mr. McIntosh, Albert Taylor and the choir deserve much credit. Prof. Porte's orchestra, assisted with the instrumental music, the orchestration being directed by Prof. Porte. Many strangers attended the services.

Competitors Outstripped.

The Evening News Review of East Liverpool reached our exchange desk Friday evening dressed in a beautiful illuminated cover. Forty-eight pages well filled with choice reading matter and many excellent ads. from East Liverpool merchants made the paper extremely interesting to everyone. The Evening News Review is a popular paper and has outstripped its competitors in the Ceramic City.—Salineville Banner.

home, stated his intention of visiting another relative, Mrs. George Miller, of Pittsburgh, where he stayed until the night that he boarded the ill-fated train. The body of the young man was frightfully mangled when taken from the wreck. From letters in his possession, his identity was established and from the ticketed destination his body was shipped on to Trenton.

Albert Webster, of Chester, and John Sant, of this city, of whom the man was a nephew, received telegrams from Wilbur F. Gray, the father, informing them of his son's death, in which he stated additional information in regard to funeral arrangements would follow.

Mr. Gray was 24 years of age, exceptionally bright and had a host of friends in this vicinity. He was a member of the first vested choir of St. Stephen's Episcopal church. Rev. Edwin Weary made mention of the young man's many virtues and the sad facts attending his death, in his Christmas day services. The young man was a resident until early manhood, of this city.

The funeral will take place at Trenton Monday.

Steubenville, December 26.—John O'Brien, a foundry worker, aged 31, was stabbed in the left breast Thursday evening in front of Mat O'Brien's saloon by Hugh Weems, aged 24, a glass worker. After being stabbed O'Brien staggered into the saloon and exclaimed, "I'm cut." He reeled and fell and died in ten minutes. Weems fled from the scene and has not been captured. Weems and others were in the saloon and as they were quarreling and insulting customers, Weems and one other man were fired out. O'Brien, who was not drinking, went out in time to prevent Weems from hurling a stone through the window. When he had done this, Weems, who had the knife up his sleeve, whirled and with a curse stabbed O'Brien. Weems was arrested by the mayor of Steubenville late at night, and lodged in the county jail.

Those who attended the entertainment at the First Presbyterian church last night had an evening of rare enjoyment. The program, as announced, was rendered, those taking part acquitting themselves with credit. The electrical display was superb and particularly fascinating to the little ones. The candies and nuts were distributed among the children by Santa Claus.

DR. A. L. ROBINSON'S HURT PROVED FATAL AT LAST

Dr. A. L. Robinson, a well known physician of Wellsville, died at the home of his sister in New Castle, Pa., Christmas day. His death was due to injuries received by falling from a street car in Wellsville December 14. He was taken to a hospital in Pittsburgh, where he remained until December 24, when he was pronounced out of danger. He left Pittsburgh for New Castle Thursday evening to visit his sister. He walked from the station to the home of his sister and in a short time was taken ill.

A physician was called, who told him that he was in no danger. Friday afternoon he was taken worse and the physician again was summoned, but ere he arrived Dr. Robinson had passed away.

Dr. Robinson was born in New Castle and was about 46 years old. He began the study of medicine in Cleveland in 1892 and was graduated in 1895. He located in Wellsville in 1896 and was very successful. He is said to be worth about $25,000. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but it is probable he will be buried in New Castle.

FIRE IN A GROCERY CAUSED $1,200 LOSS

The Blaze Did Little Harm, But Smoke and Water Ruined the Stock.

Lisbon, December 26.—(Special.)—Fire started in Brinker Bros. grocery store here at 4 o'clock this morning. It is supposed to have caught from an overheated stove. The blaze caused little damage, but the entire stock is ruined by smoke and water. Insurance, $1,200, which will not cover the loss.

Licensed to Marry.

Lisbon, December 26.—(Special.)—Jesse Edwin Trotter and Miss Ada Maude Shermarham, both of Salem, were granted a marriage license.

DRIVEN DELIRIOUS BY MUCH DRINK

Ed. Williams Became Very Violent and Narrowly Escaped Killing Several People.

TALES OF POLICE COURT

Of the half dozen men gathered in by the police on Christmas day, but one of them was out of the ordinary. He was Ed. Williams, a local teamster, and was "seeing things" so vividly that the police with what assistance they could press into service, had their hands full to control him.

Williams is said to have been drinking heavily for several days, and topped it off yesterday with a bad "bender." He went to his home on Second street early in the evening and shortly afterward was seized with delirium tremens. In some manner he secured an ax and came near killing several people. Word was sent to the city hall asking that handcuffs and ankle chains be brought along. Officer Dawson and Patrolmen Woods and Bryan responded and finally succeeded in overpowering the frantic man. A night of quiet in the jail served to subdue him, and he was released this morning upon the payment of $5 fine.

When the police court began its grind this morning Chief Wyman ushered in a man, or what seemed to be a man, who could be fittingly termed the "limit." His face resembled a blister, one side of it being skinned and swollen until it was raw. He was so filthy that it was nearly impossible to tell whether he was a white man or a negro.

"What is your name?" asked his honor.

"Didn't I give it to you last night?" asked the fellow.

"Not me," said the mayor.

"Well, then, what name did I give?" asked the man, concluding any name would do.

There were two men in jail, one giving the name of O'Neil and the other that of Lewis. What puzzled the mayor was, which was which, so he sent for Patrolman Woods to aid in identifying "it." Meantime an easier plan was hit upon. There were just two of them, and the other fellow was brought to the rail, and proved to be O'Neil, so the very wise conclusion was reached that "it" was Lewis, but this was wrong. He said his name was Dan Moore, and Dan Moore he was fined $5. O'Neil said he was on his way to Salem to work on a railroad for another Frenchman named McGinty, but will postpone his going long enough to assist Dan Moore in cleaning up about the jail.

J. R. Offord was arrested by Officer Morris yesterday afternoon on a charge of drunkenness. He was placed behind the bars but was released later upon furnishing security for his appearance.

Charley Amos was a common drunk, and his case was disposed of yesterday. He was arrested by Officer Morris, and was assessed $5, which he arranged to pay.

Joseph "Rags" McKenna fell into the hands of Special Officer Vaughn Weaver at the theatre last night. He was charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct. He denied that he was drunk, but pleaded guilty to the disorderly conduct charge, and was fined $5, which he managed to pay.

ONE OF THE VICTIMS OF THE B. & O. DISASTER

Charles W. Gray, a Native of this City, Was Among Those Instantly Killed.

A POPULAR AND WELL KNOWN YOUNG MAN

Charles W. Gray, formerly of this city, was one of the victims of the terrible wreck at Dawson, Pa., which sent so many souls to eternity on Wednesday night of this week, when the Duquesne special, one of the fastest trains which travels over the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, ran into an obstruction, which resulted in horrible loss of life.

Mr. Gray had many friends among the young people of East Liverpool and had come from his home in Trenton, N. J., for the express purpose of paying a friendly visit to his numerous relatives. He had been employed previous to the removal of the family, about four years ago, to the east, in the Electric Porcelain works, and later he secured employment with Erlanger & Co. His services with both concerns was much appreciated. On his visit to this city, Mr. Erlanger was especially desirous of securing his services during the holidays, but Mr. Gray was anxious to spend the holidays at home and reluctantly decided to leave for Trenton.

During his stay in this city he was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. John Sant, of Fourth street, and on leaving her the matter of compelling attendance of all children within the school age, there has been a noticeable improvement in the condition of the school. The attendance this year is more than double that of last year and the directors have found it necessary to add a number of new seats. They will be installed next week.

Miss Creighton, the teacher, deserves a great deal of credit. She is well liked by the pupils and has succeeded in interesting them in school work.

Before the school closed last Friday for the Christmas holiday, Miss Creighton gave her pupils a treat. A literary program was one of the features of the afternoon.

CHRISTMAS TRAGEDY AT STEUBENVILLE

John O'Brien, a Foundry Worker, Stabbed to Death by Hugh Weems, a Glass Blower.

Steubenville, December 26.—John O'Brien, a foundry worker, aged 31, was stabbed in the left breast Thursday evening in front of Mat O'Brien's saloon by Hugh Weems, aged 24, a glass worker. After being stabbed O'Brien staggered into the saloon and exclaimed, "I'm cut." He reeled and fell and died in ten minutes. Weems fled from the scene and has not been captured. Weems and others were in the saloon and as they were quarreling and insulting customers, Weems and one other man were fired out. O'Brien, who was not drinking, went out in time to prevent Weems from hurling a stone through the window. When he had done this, Weems, who had the knife up his sleeve, whirled and with a curse stabbed O'Brien. Weems was arrested by the mayor of Steubenville late at night, and lodged in the county jail.

BEAUTIFUL SERVICES

The Program at St. Stephen's Yesterday Enjoyed By Large Congregation.

Beautiful Christmas services were held yesterday at St. Stephen's Episcopal church and enjoyed by large congregations. It is stated that the singing and decoration excelled anything ever before attempted. The early communion service was attended by more than 100 parishioners, quite an unusual number at this service. Miss Rosa Lowe sang a beautiful solo. There was a full choral service, commencing at 10:30, and holy communion and sermon. Rev. Mr. Weary preached an eloquent sermon upon the theme, "The Incarnation and the Necessity of Man for God and God for Man." Miss Alice Devon sang a beautiful selection.

OPEN CHINA SETS.

China in open stock sets is one of the conveniences of the present day. The increasing prevalence of the course dinner and the practice of using several varieties of china for its service is largely responsible for the change, says an exchange. A woman who some years ago purchased a handsome dinner set now feels that if she used it alone she would make a poor showing before her guests. Different plates are used for every course. The service plates are of particularly fine china. The plates for the meat course are of a simpler and more substantial design than those for the dessert, and the after-dinner coffee is served in cups as delicate as can be found. In the larger establishments dinner is served from the butler's pantry. Many of the dishes used in a simpler menage where the roast and its accompaniments are placed on the table are not required in the former case. The needs of the different housekeepers are as varied as the houses in which they live.

It is no more expensive to have several different kinds of china than to have all the pieces alike. Open sets have made this possible. Within the last five years these have increased in size and number. Now there is practically no style of china that cannot be bought in open stock.

A set of china which the merchant keeps on hand and from which his customer makes her selections is much more complete than the one he would have formerly sold her entire. He is prepared to suit all tastes and meet all needs. He has teapots in all sizes,

Later a representative of the fair came to Wheeling to see Mr. Franzheim and offered space in the clay building. When Mr. Franzheim learned his output of art pottery would have to take its chances with sewer pipe and fire clay, he respectfully declined the offer. At Chicago, at the world's fair, Mr. Franzheim had a display and was given obscure quarters, where hardly one out of a hundred visitors saw it, and he was determined to have commensurate quarters or none at all. At the company's Avon department they had been working nearly all year on goods to display at St. Louis and the company was prepared to spend $5,000 on its exhibit.

25 MILES OF CROCKERY.

George W. Bowers, assistant secretary at the Wheeling Pottery company, and others of the office force got out their lead pencils the other day and figured it out that if the earthenware shipped out of Wheeling in a year was placed end to end it would make a continuous line 25 miles in length, says an exchange. They knew the shipments of the Wheeling and Warwick and combined them and it was easy to average up the size of the plates, saucers and other articles. It

ST. STEPHEN'S ANNIVERSARY

With beautiful and impressive services, the third anniversary of the dedication of St. Stephen's Episcopal church edifice will be observed tomorrow, the event being one of great happiness to the rector, Rev. Edwin Weary, and to the members of the congregation. During the past three years the church has experienced a season of wonderful blessings, the last year witnessing a material increase in membership. During the three years about 200 have been added to the church rolls.

The services for tomorrow have been arranged with great care and will be most enjoyable. The music will be made a special feature, particularly at the evening service, and the church will be beautifully decorated. Rev. Edwin Weary will preach at the 11 o'clock service, his sermon being appropriate to the occasion. A cordial invitation is extended generally.

Climatic Cures.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. ### A FAMILIAR FACE.

One of the most familiar faces seen at the convention is that of James Meakin Pearson, says the Glass and Pottery World. He was formerly active in the councils of the association, but now concerns himself in a quiet way with selling foreign clay to a few large firms. He is still a large stockholder in the Wheeling potteries and built the parent plant there in 1879. Mr. Pearson also built five of the large potteries in East Liverpool, the first one being constructed in 1873 at a time when the town had less than 2,000 people, also a quality and quantity of mud scarcely conceivable to those who now know the trim city of 20,000 prosperous people. This was the year of the great Jay Cook-Northern Pacific railway failure and the only bank in the place suspended for a brief period. Mr. Pearson's associates were substantial men and their means and methods were of great benefit at this juncture. Mr. Pearson is the son of a potter. His mother was a Meakin and his two sisters married their cousins of the Meakin name. He is an Englishman with an honest preference for the land of his adoption and a positive belief that American pottery is destined to rule the world.

UNIQUE CHINA DISPLAY.

Visitors to the white house in the future will enjoy an exhibition of the china of various administrations for many years back says a Washington dispatch. Each new administration is furnished with a new set of china always selected by the mistress of the white house, and it has been the custom to relegate the previous sets to store rooms.

The plan decided upon is to arrange the china of each administration in a separate case, suitably marked, and place all the cases in the east entrance to the white house. There are many historic sets of china in the building. Prior to the time of President Lincoln there are not found any whole sets, but some valuable pieces, but since the administration of President Lincoln there are almost complete sets of every administration.

NO EXHIBIT.

The Wheeling Potteries company has abandoned its intention of making an exhibit at the world's fair at St. Louis. Unsatisfactory offers of space form the reason assigned by President Franzheim, says an exchange. As far back as February President Franzheim wrote for space, on learning from a Japanese manufacturer who had just come to Wheeling from St. Louis and had been given space, but did not get a satisfactory statement. Later a representative of the fair came to Wheeling to see Mr. Franzheim and offered space in the clay building. When Mr. Franzheim learned his output of art pottery would have to take its chances with sewer pipe and fire clay, he respectfully declined the offer. At Chicago, at the world's fair, Mr. Franzheim had a display and was given obscure quarters, where hardly one out of a hundred visitors saw it, and he was determined to have commensurate quarters or none at all. At the company's Avon department they had been working nearly all year on goods to display at St. Louis and the company was prepared to spend $5,000 on its exhibit.

25 MILES OF CROCKERY.

George W. Bowers, assistant secretary at the Wheeling Potteries company, and others of the office force got out their lead pencils the other day and figured it out that if the earthenware shipped out of Wheeling in a year was placed end to end it would make a continuous line 25 miles in length, says an exchange. They knew the shipments of the Wheeling and Warwick and combined them and it was easy to average up the size of the plates, saucers and other articles. It

ST. STEPHEN'S ANNIVERSARY

With beautiful and impressive services, the third anniversary of the dedication of St. Stephen's Episcopal church edifice will be observed tomorrow, the event being one of great happiness to the rector, Rev. Edwin Weary, and to the members of the congregation. During the past three years the church has experienced a season of wonderful blessings, the last year witnessing a material increase in membership. During the three years about 200 have been added to the church rolls.

The services for tomorrow have been arranged with great care and will be most enjoyable. The music will be made a special feature, particularly at the evening service, and the church will be beautifully decorated. Rev. Edwin Weary will preach at the 11 o'clock service, his sermon being appropriate to the occasion. A cordial invitation is extended generally.

FIANCE KILLED IN WRECK.

English Bride Hears of His Death Upon Arrival at New York.

New York, Dec. 26.—Lillian Bennett, who was to have met here and married Ambrose Good, of New Castle, Pa., who lost his life in the railroad wreck at Connellsville, Pa., arrived on the steamship Cedric from Liverpool and was informed at quarantine of her lover's death.

Miss Bennett, who had been worrying because the delay of a day in the vessel's arrival would cause a postponement of the wedding, was grief-stricken over the news. As she came over in the steamer and has neither friends nor relatives here to take charge of her, she must, under the law, be returned to England.

Climatic Cures.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

EAST END

NO ARRESTS MADE

Christmas Day in the East End Was Quiet and Enjoyable.

Christmas day passed off quietly in the East End without an incident of any kind happening to mar the pleasures of the residents of that part of the city. The people generally enjoyed themselves with family gatherings and many small dinner parties were held in many sections of the town at which the turkey, as a rule, suffered as usual on this particular holiday. Many of the younger set went down to the city during the afternoon and evening, while a few attended the theatre in Pittsburgh last night, returning on the midnight train. Matters in police circles were unusually quiet, not a single arrest or disturbance of any kind being recorded.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

WELLSVILLE

HOLIDAY BUSINESS

Has Been Unusually Good With the Railroad and Express Companies.

The usual big volume of Christmas business has been at its height on the railroad lines of the Pennsylvania system. All trains have been from 20 minutes to two hours behind schedule time. The express company has been overwhelmed with business and the transfer here looked like a small bazaar. Some of the trains carried three or four extra baggage and express cars. The passenger business was extremely large, many foreigners making up a part of the traveling public.

The foreigners in the employ of the local contracting firms have all been paid off during the past few days in anticipation of the holiday cheer. For several days the offices of these firms have been besieged by anxious, chattering crowds of the workmen, all after the "mun." Their money was handed out to them as rapidly as possible but the work was slow on account of the various misunderstandings and difficulty in speech. Many of them were afraid they would not be able to get their pay and crowded around to add much to the confusion. All finally received their wages at a late hour today and they will now celebrate in approved European style.

Round-Henthorn.

Charles Henthorn and Martha Round were married Christmas day by Rev. W. C. Prewitt at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. F. F. White, on Commerce street. After the ceremony a sumptuous repast was served. The pair will soon go to housekeeping in their new home on Clark avenue and will be at home to their friends.

Kris Kingle Cantata.

The Sunday school of the M. P. church presented the cantata of Kris Kingle on Christmas night in the church. The music was very good and was enjoyed by all present. After the cantata the children received the usual treat.

Firemen's Benefit.

The entertainment at Cooper opera house Christmas night for the benefit of the city firemen was well attended. About $50 was cleared.

"AIL HANDLERS HAD A BIG FEAST

abundance of good things and those in attendance did ample justice to them all.

When the feasting had been concluded Prof. T. B. Mackey was introduced as toastmaster. The gentleman is peculiarly adapted to a duty of this character, having a ready flow of language and possessing the knack of saying precisely the right thing at the right moment. He informed the party that, as is always the case upon such occasions, there would be disappointments. A few who had promised to respond had either failed to make preparation or were unavoidably detained. However, they were certain of one pleasure, since Postmaster Surles was to give a few facts and formation of interest concerning the office assumed by him only a short time ago. Mr. Surles is an official who considers it a pleasure to do his whole duty, and for that reason he has made an ideal official. The clerical force was small and the equipment at the time of his assuming the office was any thing but satisfactory. In the brief period in which Mr. Surles has been in charge there has been a remarkable increase in business, while the number of employees and facilities were more than doubled. The progress made by the local branch has exceeded the expectations of its best friends, and the following table will show that the growth has been healthy and vigorous:

	Gross Receipts.	Expenses.	Net Revenue.
1898	$26,977 61	$12,597 70	$14,379 91
1899	27,591 68	13,444 72	14,146 96
1900	31,205 05	14,306 35	16,898 70
1901	32,873 81	15,081 43	17,792 38
1902	38,228 22	16,143 58	22,084 64
1903	41,126 80	16,783 48	24,343 32

Mr. Surles was followed by Edwin McClure, chief clerk, who was asked to say something interesting from a clerk's standpoint. Mr. McClure has been connected with the East Liverpool office longer than any other clerk now engaged and his talk was greatly enjoyed.

The most thoroughly enjoyed feature of the evening was the response of Letter Carrier W. M. Carey, to whom had been assigned "the Ladies." Mr. Carey is a born orator, and the subject was his favorite one. It will be seen by the list given above that he had a worthy set of ladies upon which to bestow his compliments, and his speech was the happiest of the evening.

Postmaster W. E. Baird, of Station A, told of the achievements of his department, indicating that the East End branch had held up its end in the remarkable rapid advancement made by the office here.

During the evening every branch of the work was touched upon either by some member of the craft or the toastmaster, so that the affair was profitable as well as most thoroughly enjoyed. The party broke up at about 11:30, all joining in a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Surles and the caterer.

AT THE THEATER

One of Hal Reid's most popular plays applauded at the Lyceum. "A Homespun Heart" is a typical melodrama and is one of the best of its class, meeting in all respects, all the requirements of a play of that sort. There are a persecuted hero and heroine, an adventuresome hero and heroine, an adventuresome villain and all the other characters and superlatives that are to be found in the Hal Reid melodramas.—Commercial, Cincinnati, December 10. At the Grand Tuesday night.

Miss Blanche Cramer, the beautiful actress and opera singer of Europe, is making her first American tour this season in a new adaptation of "East Lynne," supported a strong dramatic company. At each performance as a special feature Miss Cramer will introduce songs in German, French and English from the late operas. At the Grand opera house Monday night.

The forest bred lion, "Majesta," that is introduced by the Great Lafayette in his new Hindoo mystic play, "Krishna, the Divine," at the Grand opera house next Wednesday night, is said to be one of the handsomest specimens that has ever been imported to this country. The Great Lafayette was the first person that ever entered the cage with this ferocious animal.

"I have been troubled with catarrh for twenty-five years. Could not sleep day or night. After having used Peruna I can sleep and nothing bothers me now."—Mrs. Alla Schwandt.

Mrs. Jennie Cable, Spokane, Wash., writes:

"After suffering for twenty-one years with neuralgia, caused by catarrh of head, I tried all doctors and all kinds of medicine, receiving no benefit. I became discouraged and worn out at last. My mother wrote me to take Dr. Hartman's medicine, so I did, but my case was a chronic one, and I was also in the change of life. Through the use of Peruna and Manalin I am now entirely well."

"When I began taking your medicine I only weighed 61 pounds; now I weigh 110. I have not taken a drop of medicine for seven months, and would advise all sufferers to consult Dr. Hartman. The neuralgia affected my head and eyes, and for the last year seemed to be in my breast and between my shoulder blades."

EAST END

NO ARRESTS MADE

Christmas Day in the East End Was Quiet and Enjoyable.

Christmas day passed off quietly in the East End without an incident of any kind happening to mar the pleasures of the residents of that part of the city. The people generally enjoyed themselves with family gatherings and many small dinner parties were held in many sections of the town at which the turkey, as a rule, suffered as usual on this particular holiday. Many of the younger set went down to the city during the afternoon and evening, while a few attended the theatre in Pittsburg last night, returning on the midnight train. Matters in police circles were unusually quiet, not a single arrest or disturbance of any kind being recorded.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

WELLSVILLE

HOLIDAY BUSINESS

Has Been Unusually Good With the Railroad and Express Companies.

The usual big volume of Christmas business has been at its height on the railroad lines of the Pennsylvania system. All trains have been from 20 minutes to two hours behind schedule time. The express company has been overwhelmed with business and the transfer here looked like a small bazaar. Some of the trains carried three or four extra baggage and express cars. The passenger business was extremely large, many foreigners making up a part of the traveling public.

The foreigners in the employ of the local contracting firms have all been paid off during the past few days, in anticipation of the holiday cheer. For several days the offices of these firms have been besieged by anxious, chattering crowds of the workmen, all after the "mun." Their money was handed out to them as rapidly as possible but the work was slow on account of the various misunderstandings and difficulty in speech. Many of them were afraid they would not be able to get their pay and crowded around to add much to the confusion. All finally received their wages at a late hour today and they will now celebrate in approved European style.

Round-Henthorn.

Charles Henthorn and Martha Round were married Christmas day by Rev. W. C. Prewitt at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. F. F. White, on Commerce street. After the ceremony a sumptuous repast was served. The pair will soon go to housekeeping in their new home on Clark avenue and will be at home to their friends.

Kris Kingle Cantata.

The Sunday school of the M. P. church presented the cantata of Kris Kingle on Christmas night in the church. The music was very good and was enjoyed by all present. After the cantata the children received the usual treat.

Firemen's Benefit.

The entertainment at Cooper opera house Christmas night for the benefit of the city firemen was well attended. About $50 was cleared.

TAIL HANDLERS HAD A BIG FEAST

abundance of good things and those in attendance did ample justice to them all.

When the feasting had been concluded Prof. T. B. Mackey was introduced as toastmaster. The gentleman is peculiarly adapted to a duty of this character, having a ready flow of language and possessing the knack of saying precisely the right thing at the right moment. He informed the party that, as is always the case upon such occasions, there would be disappointments. A few who had promised to respond had either failed to make preparation or were unavoidably detained. However, they were certain of one pleasure, since Postmaster Surles was to give a few facts and formation of interest concerning the office assumed by him only a short time ago. Mr. Surles is an official who considers it a pleasure to do his whole duty, and for that reason he has made an ideal official. The clerical force was small and the equipment at the time of his assuming the office was any thing but satisfactory. In the brief period in which Mr. Surles has been in charge there has been a remarkable increase in business, while the number of employees and facilities were more than doubled. The progress made by the local branch has exceeded the expectations of its best friends, and the following table will show that the growth has been healthy and vigorous:

	Gross Receipts	Re-Expenses	Net Revenue
1898	$26,977 61	$12,597 70	$14,379 91
1899	27,591 68	13,444 72	14,146 96
1900	31,205 05	14,306 35	16,898 70
1901	32,873 81	15,081 43	17,792 38
1902	38,228 22	16,143 58	22,084 64
1903	41,126 80	16,783 48	24,343 32

Mr. Surles was followed by Edwin McClure, chief clerk, who was asked to say something interesting from a clerk's standpoint. Mr. McClure has been connected with the East Liverpool office longer than any other clerk now engaged and his talk was greatly enjoyed.

The most thoroughly enjoyed feature of the evening was the response of Letter Carrier W. M. Carey, to whom had been assigned "the Ladies." Mr. Carey is a born orator, and the subject was his favorite one. It will be seen by the list given above that he had a worthy set of ladies upon which to bestow his compliments, and his speech was the happiest of the evening.

Postmaster W. E. Baird, of Station A, told of the achievements of his department, indicating that the East End branch had held up its end in the remarkable rapid advancement made by the office here.

During the evening every branch of the work was touched upon either by some member of the craft or the toastmaster, so that the affair was profitable as well as most thoroughly enjoyed. The party broke up at about 11:30, all joining in a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Surles and the caterer.

AT THE THEATER

One of Hal Reid's most popular plays applauded at the Lyceum. "A Homespun Heart" is a typical melodrama and is one of the best of its class, meeting, in all respects, all the requirements of a play of that sort. There are a persecuted hero and heroine, an adventuresome to assist a heartless villain and all the other characters and superlatives that are to be found in the Hal Reid melodramas.—Commercial, Cincinnati, December 10. At the Grand Tuesday night.

Miss Blanche Cramer, the beautiful actress and opera singer of Europe, is making her first American tour this season in a new adaptation of "East Lynne," supported a strong dramatic company. At each performance as a special feature Miss Cramer will introduce songs in German, French and English from the late operas. At the Grand opera house Monday night.

The forest bred lion, "Majesta," that is introduced by the Great Lafayette in his new Hindoo mystic play, "Krishna, the Divine," at the Grand opera house next Wednesday night, is said to be one of the handsomest specimens that has ever been imported to this country. The Great Lafayette was the first person that ever entered the cage with this ferocious animal.

TWELVE PAGES.

The awakening of the farmers and the citizens generally to the value of good roads can be seen in the action of the road supervisors of the state of New York. They have held a state convention and resolved to ask the legislature to appropriate two million dollars per year for three years, for the systematic rebuilding of the roads of the state. This six millions is but the beginning. By that time it is expected that the issue of $50,000,000 of state bonds for the same purpose will have been ratified at the polls by the people of the state, and the work can then be pushed rapidly. Ohio has worse roads than New York and consequently needs improvement more. The state is out of debt and has a surplus in its treasury. The coming legislature, if it desires to work for the greatest good of the greatest number, should take action looking toward common sense highways.

The judges of the Chicago police court have set an example which could be followed in other cities to advantage. They have fined two "mashers" $100 each. In one case a young woman employed in a department store was followed to her home and annoyed on the way. In the other, a respectable girl was accosted on the street near her home. Almost every city has this abominable fraternity of mashers, and it is the duty of the police to clear them out. Some arrests and fines after the Chicago model would conduce to the safety of young women who are employed down town, and are obliged to go home after dark these short winter days. Even here in East Liverpool a few such examples would be of benefit.

The horrible railroad wreck on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad should serve as a lesson and a warning to that road and other lines as well. It is the height of unwisdom to run a fast express train over a track where a heavy freight has just passed until the track has been inspected. More track walkers, more inspection, will of course cost the railroads something, but the expense will be as nothing compared with that arising from such a disaster as that at Dawson.

Colombia's greed merited a rebuke. Promising a fair treaty, that country induced this country to change its isthmian canal plans from Nicaragua to Panama. When a treaty was submitted giving Colombia $10,000,000 down and $250,000 a year for allowing this country to spend $200,000,000 on the isthmian canal, Colombia marked up the figures immensely, and added that even the advance demanded might not be satisfactory. The protest of the United States against the flagrant acts of Colombian bad faith will be an effective one.

The English language, in the mouths of those who don't know how to use it, is peculiar. For example an exchange that is supposed to be well edited, talks about "an old centennial."

Capt. Dreyfus is at last to be vindicated. Though it is tardy, the vindication of the French government for its part in the affair will be still slower in coming.

Christmas is the one holiday that is observed all around the globe, and more and more people observe it each year.

Fat Christmas stockings make lean pocketbooks; but what is the odds, so long as you're happy?

Butler, Pa., spent a dismal Christmas. Its city authorities and not the people are to blame.

The Christmas snow arrived just in time to annul the fat grave yard prophecy.

Japan is getting bold enough to make faces at Russia at long range.

The snow comes like a mantle of charity to cover the dirty streets.

OBITUARY

Mrs. M. P. Graham.

Lisbon, December 26.—(Special).—Mrs. M. P. Graham, who was stricken with paralysis four weeks ago, died at the family residence here Christmas morning. She is survived by her husband, Dr. Graham, and two daughters, Misses Helen and Frances Graham. She was about 50 years old.

CURED OF CANCER

East Liverpool, O., Dec. 24, 1903.

To the Public:

I have been annoyed with a cancer for 12 years above my right eye, as big as a silver dollar when taken out, and I can say today by the help of Almighty God and A. J. Miller, of St. Louis, Mo., I am free from cancer, and I would say to everybody with cancer or skin disease not to wait a day, but call on him at once. He will cure you at your own home if you will follow his directions carefully, as he did me. In nine days after I took treatment I had my cancer out of my face in alcohol for everybody to see. Anybody doubting this statement of mine, call on me.

BIG CROWDS CAME TO SEE AND HEAR

performers had been well drilled in their parts and the teachers and officers of the Sunday school should feel proud of the success of the entertainment. The children of the school were treated to candies, nuts, etc.

Chester Presbyterian Church.

The superintendent, officers and teachers of the Chester Presbyterian Sunday school successfully entertained the scholars and friends of the school with a Christmas treat and musical at the U. P. church last night. The church was filled to its utmost capacity and every one present thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. Samuel Newell, dressed in the garb of Santa Claus, distributed the candy and fruits of which an abundant supply had been provided.

The musical program and entertainment, which preceded the distribution of the gifts, was thoroughly enjoyed by the large crowd present. Not only did the scholars share in the distribution of the presents, but a great many of the sick and needy of the town were also remembered.

Second Christian Church.

The first Christmas exercises at the new Second Christian church were greatly enjoyed and it proved a most happy occasion for both pastor and congregation. At the conclusion of the program, Rev. Mr. Pitman, the pastor, was presented with a fine gold watch, a gift from the members of the congregation.

First M. P. Church.

An interesting program was rendered last evening at the Methodist Protestant church in commemoration of Christmas. The exercises were designed to please the little ones, the performers being members of the Sunday school. The presents were distributed among the children by a Santa Claus that looked genuine.

First Methodist Church.

The spacious auditorium of the First Methodist church was filled to overflowing last evening by those in attendance at the Christmas exercises. An elaborate program was rendered by the pupils of the Sunday school, many of the numbers being unusually good and eliciting much favorable comment. The little ones enjoyed the treat of candies and nuts.

Erie Street Methodist.

The entertainment last night at the Erie street Methodist church was the most elaborate and best enjoyed in many years. The edifice was thronged with members of the congregation and Sunday school and the literary and musical program as printed Thursday was carried out. One feature of the entertainment was the large log sabin, built as they were half a century ago, with nothing lacking save the con skin on the door. The presents for the children had been deposited within the cabin and the little ones had great fun in watching Santa Claus' trips in and out as he distributed them.

Second United Presbyterian.

The Christmas entertainment at the Second U. P. church was marred to some extent by the failure of the electrical appliances intended to illuminate the Christmas tree. The evening, however, was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience and the program of musical and literary selections was well rendered. Santa Claus distributed the presents among the little ones.

First Baptist Church.

The Christmas exercises last night at the First Baptist church were greatly enjoyed by a large audience. The program of special exercises was very well gone through with, much to the enjoyment of the auditors. The music added to the enjoyment of the evening.

Glasses for Christmas.

Properly fitted glasses certainly are ideal Christmas gifts. Dr. H. H. Bean, the oculist, has fitted over 200 pairs during the last week expressly for Christmas presents. Make your appointment today.

TWELVE PAGES.

The awakening of the farmers and the citizens generally to the value of good roads can be seen in the action of the road supervisors of the state of New York. They have held a state convention and resolved to ask the legislature to appropriate two million dollars per year for three years, for the systematic rebuilding of the roads of the state. This six millions is but the beginning. By that time it is expected that the issue of $50,000,000 of state bonds for the same purpose will have been ratified at the polls by the people of the state, and the work can then be pushed rapidly. Ohio has worse roads than New York and consequently needs improvement more. The state is out of debt and has a surplus in its treasury. The coming legislature, if it desires to work for the greatest good of the greatest number, should take action looking toward common sense highways.

The judges of the Chicago police court have set an example which could be followed in other cities to advantage. They have fined two "mashers" $100 each. In one case a young woman employed in a department store was followed to her home and annoyed on the way. In the other, a respectable girl was accosted on the street near her home. Almost every city has this abominable fraternity of mashers, and it is the duty of the police to clear them out. Some arrests and fines after the Chicago model would conduce to the safety of young women who are employed down town, and are obliged to go home after dark these short winter days. Even here in East Liverpool a few such examples would be of benefit.

The horrible railroad wreck on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad should serve as a lesson and a warning to that road and other lines as well. It is the height of unwisdom to run a fast express train over a track where a heavy freight has just passed until the track has been inspected. More track walkers, more inspection, will of course cost the railroads something, but the expense will be as nothing compared with that arising from such a disaster as that at Dawson.

Colombia's greed merited a rebuke. Promising a fair treaty, that country induced this country to change its isthmian canal plans from Nicaragua to Panama. ## SOCIAL EVENTS

BELMONT CLUB'S NEW YEAR'S BALL

To Be Held at Rock Springs Will Be One of the Finest Events of the Season.

The most auspicious event of the opening year of 1904 will be the New Year's dance which will be given by the Belmont club on the evening of January 1 at Rock Springs park pavilion. The Belmont club members, consisting of many of the leading young men of the city, have worked assiduously for several months to make the dance a social success.

Their plans and expectations will be fully realized when several hundred of the society people of this city and vicinity will be present. Besides a large number of the young people of this vicinity which will be in attendance, several of the leading colleges of the state will be represented by their fraternity and sorority students.

The committees have arranged not only for dancing during the evening, but the balcony at Rock Springs park pavilion will be transformed into a place appropriate for card playing. The music will be of an excellent order and will be furnished by Gounod's orchestra of Pittsburgh. Elaborate decorations in Belmont club colors will be a special feature of the entertainment.

The Belmont club's dances of New Year's evening have always been regarded as grand annual functions, but the dance of this year will outclass the ones of previous years in superb splendor.

Following the dance, "The Girls," a temporary club consisting of the young ladies of representative families in this city, will give a leap year dance in return to their gentlemen friends on the evening of January 5 at Rock Springs park pavilion. This entertainment will reach the same degree of excellence and will be on a par with the New Year's dance given just previous. Not such a large number of invitations have been issued, but the prominent society people of this city and quite a few from neighboring cities will be present.

The appointments are perfect in detail and "The Girls" have manifested marked ability in getting up a smart and very fine dance.

STREET CARMEN BUSY

Diligent Effort Kept Traffic from Being Interrupted By Snow.

The snow storm of last night, which for a few hours before midnight threatened a heavy fall which would seriously interfere with street car traffic, caused but little inconvenience to the Southside line. Several of the cars were equipped with snow plows and kept constantly going during the hours of the storm and when it had ceased the track was in good condition. A force of men went over the tracks at midnight and spread several barrels of salt on the switch points and at other places where the snow was liable to give trouble, which left the tracks in good shape for the first car out this morning.

The early morning train on the branch experienced considerable trouble at several places where the snow had drifted. However, it arrived in Chester only a few minutes late and was able to leave only a few minutes behind schedule time.

ABOUT A CHICKEN

A Dispute Arose Which Waxed Warm And Led to Exchange of Blows.

A man named Vogel, returning from the city yesterday afternoon, got into an argument with Conductor Frank Hogue that had been carried over from the night before in regard to the ownership of a chicken. When the car arrived at the barn the wordy warfare was taken up by Motorman George Wynn on Conductor Hogue's behalf, and before many words had passed between Wynn and Vogel they sailed into one another.

In the encounter Vogel received decidedly the worst of the encounter and Wynn broke the small finger of his right hand. The belligerents were separated and Wynn went to the office of Dr. Lewis, where his injury was attended to.

CUTTING TIMBER

Homer Fenton Carrying on Extensive Operations in the Vicinity of Chester.

Homer Fenton, an extensive lumber dealer of New Castle, Pa., has purchased quite a large tract of timber a few miles back of Chester and has a large force of men and teams at work cutting it. One of his large saw mills is now located on the James Allison farm and it will probably take all winter to cut and saw the timber in this one tract.

one, and he will probably be operating in this section for another year at least. The timber is being hauled to Chester and shipped to Pittsburgh and other eastern points.

Webster and Howard Piper. The horse was uninjured, but the vehicle was badly used up. The horse was again secured and in an hour the owner appeared and took charge of his property.

Many amusing guesses were made, ranging anywhere from three hundred to fifteen thousand and the contest attracted widespread interest.

Postmaster's Busy Time.

ABOUT A CHICKEN

A Dispute Arose Which Waxed Warm And Led to Exchange of Blows.

A man named Vogel, returning from the city yesterday afternoon, got into an argument with Conductor Frank Hogue that had been carried over from the night before in regard to the ownership of a chicken. When the car arrived at the barn the wordy warfare was taken up by Motorman George Wynn on Conductor Hogue's behalf, and before many words had passed between Wynn and Vogel they sailed into one another.

In the encounter Vogel received decidedly the worst of the encounter and Wynn broke the small finger of his right hand. The belligerents were separated and Wynn went to the office of Dr. Lewis, where his injury was attended to.

CUTTING TIMBER

Homer Fenton Carrying on Extensive Operations in the Vicinity of Chester.

Homer Fenton, an extensive lumber dealer of New Castle, Pa., has purchased quite a large tract of timber a few miles back of Chester and has a large force of men and teams at work cutting it. One of his large saw mills is now located on the James Allison farm and it will probably take all winter to cut and saw the timber in this one tract.

Mr. Fenton has several other tracts within a radius of a few miles of this ## Exciting Runaway.

A spirited horse, attached to a buggy, driven by Harold Marshall, after being hitched in front of the Pot's farm residence, about three miles from Chester, Thursday afternoon, becoming frightened, broke loose and madly dashed back into town. It did not stop until it got to the ruins of the Main restaurant, opposite Rock Springs park, where the frightened animal became entangled in the debris. It was taken in charge by John E. Webster and Howard Piper. The horse was uninjured, but the vehicle was badly used up. The horse was again secured and in an hour the owner appeared and took charge of his property.

Guessing on Beans.

The guessing contest which has been going on for the past several weeks at the store of the Chester Hardware company ended Wednesday evening. The prize, which was a handsome little stove, was awarded to James W. Stevenson, of Carolina avenue. The jar of beans, which had been the subject of the contest, contained 599 beans and Mr. Stevenson's guess was 605 which was within six of the actual number. Many amusing guesses were made, ranging anywhere from three hundred to fifteen thousand and the contest attracted widespread interest.

Postmaster's Busy Time.

Postmaster Johnston and his assistants had a very busy time during the past week handling the unusually heavy Christmas mails. The work and volume of mail during the past week was the heaviest in the history of the office and those in charge of the work are to be congratulated in the quick and accurate way in which it was handled. The office was only open for a short time Christmas as the force wanted to enjoy the day as much as possible.

This is considered very favorably by Mr. Freudenberger.

D. C. & A. C. BEATEN
BY LOCAL TEAM

The Christmas Afternoon Game at Rook Springs Pavilion Easy For East Liverpool.

FINAL SCORE WAS 28 TO 16

Allison Was Not in the Game And Powell And Watkin Played in Both Halves—Rigby Led His Team-mates With 7 Field Goals.

Joy was added to an already happy occasion yesterday when the East Liverpool basketball team five trimmed D. C. & A. C. 28 to 16. The 600 fans who chose to spend Christmas afternoon at the pavilion were repaid with a very interesting game, though the score was not close enough to cause much excitement.

The local five played a strong, steady game, showing a marked improvement in team work and the general result of the practice engaged in during the past week. The visitors were clearly outclassed.

Allison, who had been ill for several weeks, was not in shape to play. He has been threatened with fever and under his physician's order has been indoors for some days. Powell and Watkin, instead of alternating, each playing a half, were in the entire game.

Chadwick played his usual fast game, his interference and tackling being of a brilliant order. He failed to make a goal throw, however. Rigby was in the firm and his throwing was the feature. Powell and Bloor made some difficult goal throws and Watkin, though making only one goal, played a fast game.

For the visitors Turner excelled at goal throwing with Orr and Hydes a close second. The halves were 20 minutes and Zang refereed.

The lineups:
East Liverpool: Bloor and Powell, forwards; Rigby, center; Watkin and Chadwick, guards.

D. C. & A. C.—Turner and Orr, forwards; Hydes, center; Campbell and Browne, guards.

Field goals—Bloor 2, Powell 3, Rigby 6, Watkin 1, Turner 3, Orr 2, Hydes 2.

Fouls—Rigby 2, Chadwick 2, Orr 2.

HOW A PLAYER
MAY BE PUT OUT

Twenty-Two Ways of Doing It Figured Out By an Authority.

A base ball authority lately figured up the chances there are in a game for a player of the batting team to be put out. The result will perhaps surprise the average fan who never tried to figure it.

The list of 22 distinct ways is as follows:

BRIGHTS DISEASE AND DIABETES NEWS

San Francisco, Dec. 15, 1903.

Will Reed's Pharmacy:
Dear Sirs:—The discovery in this city of a new diuretic is saving thousands of lives. It is hard for people to believe who are not eye witnesses. You as a brother druggist well know that up to this time chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes have been necessarily fatal. It is no longer. And I not only know this by being on the ground, but I was also one of the patients. I had both Bright's Disease and Diabetes and looked upon death as inevitable. I was so prejudiced I wouldn't buy the new treatment. I couldn't believe it. So they gave it to me to prove it. I not only recovered, but have since given it to some where near fifty patients and know of only three or four failures.

I am a pioneer druggist of this city; have been doing business on my own premises for 48 years, and I now declare to you on the honor of a brother pharmacist the absolute curability of these dread diseases in about nine-tenths of all cases. I understand the business men who are placing it before the world have appointed you to represent them in your city, and I beg to tell you that there are lives to be saved and friends to be made.

Yours sincerely,

CARL D. ZEILE.
We sent for the Fulton Compound to which the above refers and now have them in stock. They are the first cures the world has ever seen for chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes. Free pamphlet.

catch of a fair ball. He can be put out by a similar catch of a foul ball. He can be put out on three called strikes. He can be put out by stepping outside of his position to strike at a ball. He can be put out for hindering the catcher from fielding a ball. He can be put out by his bat accidentally hitting the ball to fair ground.

The batsman can be put out on called strikes after two "foul strikes" are called, as follows: By a catching of a foul or fly ball. By the bunting of the ball to foul ground. By striking at a ball which touches his person. By standing outside the lines of his position, and, therefore, not ready to strike at the ball when a fair ball is delivered to the bat.

As a baserunner the batsman can be put out as follows: By running off the pathway from home plate to first. By being hit by a fairly batted ball while a base runner. By failing to touch first base after a fair hit, before the ball in the hands of a fielder is held there.

Running beyond the three-foot boundary toward the ball in the hands of a fielder who is standing on the base line. By failing to return before being touched out by the ball player, after running past first base and then going off four ground. By standing in the way of a fielder trying to catch a fly ball or to field a thrown ball.

By failing to return to the base he occupied, after a fly catch, before the ball is held on said base by a fielder. By a force-out resulting from a fair hit while occupying first base. For leaving the base he occupied when a fair ball is caught before the catch is completed.

By being touched by a fielder after overrunning a base—other than first—before he can get back and touch the base. By his being touched by a ball in the hands of a fielder while standing on a base he has no legal right to occupy. By the runner being touched by a ball in the hands of a fielder while standing off a base.

CLEAN BASEBALL

President of American League Issues a Strong Edict Against Rowdism.

The American league has placed itself upon record as standing for clean baseball in the fullest sense of the term. President Ban Johnson has mailed to all club owners the sentiment of the recent Chicago meeting and in his communication he impresses upon the magnates the necessity of preserving the high tone of the sport, for which the American had stood from the time of its inception. Rowdism will not be tolerated.

"We want clean, sportsmanlike baseball in all of our games," said President Johnson, "and discipline will be enforced during the coming year more strictly than ever before. Needless kicking will be stopped and profanity will be absolutely eradicated from all contests played on American league diamonds."

Squirrels Becoming Scarce.

It is only a matter of a few years until the gray squirrel, one of the most graceful and harmless of our native wild animals, will become extinct, if not given better legislative protection, and the same is true of quail. Neither are injurious to the crops and it would be the part of wisdom to prevent killing them altogether for a few years. One prominent farmer in the country regularly feeds a number of squirrels near his home and they have become so tame they look for the feed the same as fowls or other domestic animals. In the large cities the squirrels in the parks pay no attention to people and they would soon become equally tame if not hunted.

Many Foxes Shot.

Mr. Daley, of Fredericktown, shot eight foxes, Mr. Green three, Mr. Whitehill two, all near Fredericktown. Mr. Rambo two near Calcutta, Mr. McMann two near Rogers, Mr. Morlan two near Signal, Mr. Dickey one near Elkton, Mr. Bureau and Mr. Sipe two near Lisbon, and Mr. Lewis one near West Point. All of these have been shot within two weeks and this is not a good year for foxes, either, says a correspondent of the Lisbon Patriot.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. ## D. C. & A. C. BEATEN BY LOCAL TEAM

The Christmas Afternoon Game at Rook Springs Pavilion Easy For East Liverpool.

FINAL SCORE WAS 28 TO 16

Allison Was Not in the Game And Powell And Watkin Played in Both Halves—Rigby Led His Team-mates With 7 Field Goals.

Joy was added to an already happy occasion yesterday when the East Liverpool basketball team five trimmed D. C. & A. C. 28 to 16. The 600 fans who chose to spend Christmas afternoon at the pavilion were repaid with a very interesting game, though the score was not close enough to cause much excitement.

The local five played a strong, steady game, showing a marked improvement in team work and the general result of the practice engaged in during the past week. The visitors were clearly outclassed.

Allison, who had been ill for several weeks, was not in shape to play. He has been threatened with fever and under his physician's order has been indoors for some days. Powell and Watkin, instead of alternating, each playing a half, were in the entire game.

Chadwick played his usual fast game, his interference and tackling being of a brilliant order. He failed to make a goal throw, however. Rigby was in fine trim and his throwing was the feature. Powell and Bloor made some difficult goal throws and Watkin, though making only one goal, played a fast game.

For the visitors Turner excelled at goal throwing with Orr and Hydes a close second. The halves were 20 minutes and Zang refereed.

The lineups: East Liverpool: Bloor and Powell, forwards; Rigby, center; Watkin and Chadwick, guards.

D. C. & A. C.—Turner and Orr, forwards; Hydes, center; Campbell and Browne, guards.

Field goals—Bloor 2, Powell 3, Rigby 6, Watkin 1, Turner 3, Orr 2, Hydes 2.

HOW A PLAYER MAY BE PUT OUT

TwentyTwo Ways of Doing It Figured Out By an Authority.

A base ball authority lately figured up the chances there are in a game for a player of the batting team to be put out. The result will perhaps surprise the average fan who never tried to figure it.

The list of 22 distinct ways is as follows:

The batsman can be put out by a fly

BRIGHT'S DISEASE AND DIABETES NEWS

San Francisco, Dec. 15, 1903.

Will Reed's Pharmacy:

Dear Sirs:—The discovery in this city of a new diuretic is saving thousands of lives. It is hard for people to believe who are not eye witnesses. You as a brother druggist well know that up to this time chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes have been necessarily fatal. It is no longer. And I not only know this by being on the ground, but I was also one of the patients. I had both Bright's Disease and Diabetes and looked upon death as inevitable. I was so prejudiced I wouldn't buy the new treatment. I couldn't believe it. So they gave it to me to prove it. I not only recovered, but have since given it to some where near fifty patients and know of only three or four failures.

I am a pioneer druggist of this city; have been doing business on my own premises for 48 years, and I now declare to you on the honor of a brother pharmacist the absolute curability of these dread diseases in about nine-tenths of all cases. I understand the business men who are placing it before the world have appointed you to represent them in your city, and I beg to tell you that there are lives to be saved and friends to be made.

Yours sincerely,

CARL D. ZEILE.

We sent for the Fulton Compound to which the above refers and now have them in stock. They are the first cures the world has ever seen for chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes. Free pamphlet.

catch of a fair ball. He can be put out by a similar catch of a foul ball. He can be put out on three called strikes. He can be put out by stepping outside of his position to strike at a ball. He can be put out for hindering the catcher from fielding a ball. He can be put out by his bat accidentally hitting the ball to fair ground.

The batsman can be put out on called strikes after two "foul strikes" are called, as follows: By a catching of a foul or fly ball. By the bunting of the ball to foul ground. By striking at a ball which touches his person. By standing outside the lines of his position, and, therefore, not ready to strike at the ball when a fair ball is delivered to the bat.

As a baserunner the batsman can be put out as follows: By running off the pathway from home plate to first. By being hit by a fairly batted ball while a base runner. By failing to touch first base after a fair hit, before the ball in the hands of a fielder is held there.

Running beyond the three-foot boundary toward the ball in the hands of a fielder who is standing on the base line. By failing to return before being touched out by the ball player, after running past first base and then going off four ground. By standing in the way of a fielder trying to catch a fly ball or to field a thrown ball.

By failing to return to the base he occupied, after a fly catch, before the ball is held on said base by a fielder. By a force-out resulting from a fair hit while occupying first base. For leaving the base he occupied when a fair ball is caught before the catch is completed.

By being touched by a fielder after overrunning a base—other than first—before he can get back and touch the base. By his being touched by a ball in the hands of a fielder while standing on a base he has no legal right to occupy. By the runner being touched by a ball in the hands of a fielder while standing off a base.

CLEAN BASEBALL

President of American League Issues a Strong Edict Against Rowdism.

The American league has placed itself upon record as standing for clean baseball in the fullest sense of the term. President Ban Johnson has mailed to all club owners the sentiment of the recent Chicago meeting and in his communication he impresses upon the magnates the necessity of preserving the high tone of the sport, for which the American had stood from the time of its inception. Rowdism will not be tolerated.

"We want clean, sportsmanlike baseball in all of our games," said President Johnson, "and discipline will be enforced during the coming year more strictly than ever before. Needless kicking will be stopped and profanity will be absolutely eradicated from all contests played on American league diamonds."

Squirrels Becoming Scarce.

It is only a matter of a few years until the gray squirrel, one of the most graceful and harmless of our native wild animals, will become extinct, if not given better legislative protection, and the same is true of quail. Neither are injurious to the crops and it would be the part of wisdom to prevent killing them altogether for a few years. One prominent farmer in the country regularly feeds a number of squirrels near his home and they have become so tame they look for the feed the same as fowls or other domestic animals. In the large cities the squirrels in the parks pay no attention to people and they would soon become equally tame if not hunted.

Many Foxes Shot.

Mr. Daley, of Fredericktown, shot eight blue foxes, Mr. Green three, Mr. Whitehill two, all near Fredericktown. Mr. Rambo two near Calcutta, Mr. McMann two near Rogers, Mr. Morlan two near Signal, Mr. Dickey one near Elkton, Mr. Burcaw and Mr. Sipe two near Lisbon, and Mr. Lewis one near West Point. All of these have been shot within two weeks and this is not a good year for foxes, either, says a correspondent of the Lisbon Patriot.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation is taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

On Account of Catastrophe Christmas Was Mournful Holiday Throughout the Coke Region—Many Bodies Unidentified and Unclaimed.

Connellsville, Dec. 26.—With the sign of death at many doors, Christmas was passed in the coke regions with an air of sadness that has never before been witnessed. Harry Devlin of Lonaconing, the sixty-fifth victim of the Duquesne limited wreck, is dead, and the death of two others who are at the Cottage State hospital is expected.

Relatives of the dead are hourly arriving, passing through the file of silent faces and examining the unclaimed baggage. There remains 20 bodies, two of which are unidentified and 12 unclaimed. The complete list is as follows:

At Sims' morgue: Out of a total of 33 bodies the following remain: John Simon, William Brody, John Kolwarski, John Fox, Lewis Sealer and John Anderson, Allegheny, and three unidentified. Five are unclaimed.

At Morris & Co.'s morgue: Total of 14, of which Regelti Vincenzi (unclaimed), Charles K. Steenstrup and A. C. Barnard remain, with two unidentified.

The shipment of bodies is going on uninterruptedly. The regular force of men is unable to handle all of the boxes, and the only chance of getting them aboard the trains is for the friends to push the trucks.

FAMILY OF PRESIDENT HAVE QUIET CHRISTMAS

Mr. Roosevelt Attends Mrs. Hoar's Funeral—Guests at Dinner.

Washington, Dec. 26.—Christmas at the White House was a quiet day. President Roosevelt's morning ride was abandoned that he might attend the funeral services of Mrs. Hoar.

Distribution of the numerous presents to the children took place immediately after breakfast. There was no family tree, although Archie Roosevelt took possession of the White House sewing room several days ago and devised a tree of his own, on which he hung remembrances to the family.

Secretary Cortelyou, of the department of commerce and labor, and General Young, chief of staff, saw the president during the morning. Commander and Mrs. Cowles spent a portion of the day at the White House. The president and Mrs. Roosevelt had a few personal friends with them at dinner at the White House in the evening. The British ambassador and Lady Durand and their daughter celebrated their first Washington Christmas by entertaining the embassy staff at dinner, and at the Austrian, French, German and other embassies members of the diplomatic corps and others were entertained at dinner.

WILL SUPPORT MIRADO.

Japanese Statesmen Say They'll Fight Russia if He Commands.

Tokio, Japan, Dec. 26.—At an extraordinary meeting of the cabinet it is reported that it was decided to issue an emergency ordinance authorizing the guarantee of the principal and interest of an issue of 10,000,000 yen debentures on the Seoul-Fusan railway, which is expected to be finished before the end of next year.

At a dinner given by the Oriental association last night former Foreign Minister Kato, who presided, said he deeply regretted that the people had not been taken into the confidence of the government regarding the position of affairs between Japan and Russia. Nevertheless, he said, should the emperor declare war, the nation would be found ready to give him unanimous support.

Count Okuma, the former premier, said he agreed with the view expressed by Mr. Kato, and he thought it was now high time to let the people know the actual position occupied by the government. He also declared that not only a feeling of chivalry, but a desire for self-preservation required that Japan should buttress the integrity of China. Both speakers thought that the situation had reached an extremely critical stage.

London, Dec. 26.—The Daily Mail correspondent says that the note to Baron Komura, the Japanese minister, to Baron DeRosen of Russia, in response to Russia's reply to the claims of Japan, has a paragraph to the effect that only two weeks would be allowed for an answer. This period expires Jan. 7.

London, Dec. 26.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Sydney, N. S. W., cables that the Japanese government has placed orders for large quantities of pig lead with New South Wales concerns and that the presumption is that this lead will be used for the manufacture of bullets.

FEARS PROFITLESS WAR.

Maine Senator Perturbed Over Events on the Isthmus.

Washington, Dec. 26.—Senator Hale of Maine fears that the United States will be plunged into an "expensive and profitless war" as a result of the Panama canal negotiations, but intimates, nevertheless, that he will vote with his party.

"I think the treaty will be ratified when they come to a vote," said Senator Hale in discussing the question, "although I can, of course, speak for no other senator. I do not like the situation and am afraid it will involve us in an expensive and profitless war, but I have seen no way from the beginning except to ratify the treaty and make the best of it."

"Our government moved rather rapidly, and with some prevision when the insurrection broke out, but Colombia was holding us up and meant to rob us, and as we were committed to the building of the canal by the United States and as some kind of government had been set up in Panama we were compelled to come to terms with that government, however quickly formed, and however unsubstantial it might be. I doubt if the Democratic senators can be held together as a body against the treaty."

Gladwin, Mich., Dec. 26.—Emery Sheldon and Eli Hemp, of Highwood, were run over by a train and instantly killed while driving across the track. It is thought they were asleep.

Torpedo Boat Disabled.

Washington, Dec. 26.—The navy department has been advised that the torpedo boat destroyer Lawrence was disabled in a storm off Hatteras while on her recent run with the second torpedo flotilla from Hampton Roads to Key West. Repairs which will consume a month will be made at Key West.

Young Man Kills Father.

Joplin, Mo., Dec. 26.—Bert Barron, aged 17, shot and killed his father, Mat Barron, while protecting his mother from assault. The elder Barron was intoxicated. Young Barron, who is under arrest, says the shooting was accidental.

Earthquake Shakes Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Dec. 26.—A severe earthquake shock lasting about eight seconds shook this city and large buildings in the business center swayed as though they would fall. People rushed to the streets in a panic.

COLONEL MONROE

The Lincolnville Philosopher Expresses Some Decided Views on the Tyranny of Labor Organizations

By FREDERICK UPHAM ADAMS

Copyright, 1903, by Frederick Upham Adams

The Colonel.

"I WANT to ask you a question, Colonel Monroe," said Postmaster Jenkins after raking down the fire and locking the safe of Lincolnville's office. "What is it, Jenkins?" "Do you think a labor union has any right to prevent a man who does not belong to the union from obtaining work at any wages he may be willing to work for?" "No."

"I never heard you say so before," said Jenkins rather ruefully. "I bet the cigars with Judge Sawyer that you would say yes, and it looks as if I have lost."

"You certainly have lost," declared the colonel. "If there is any one opinion fixed in my mind, it is to the effect that no man or combination of men have a right to interfere in any way in preventing another man from doing any honest work for such wages as he chooses to accept."

"I was confident that such was your belief and so informed our friend Jenkins," smiled Judge Sawyer. "He was equally positive that you would defend the policy of certain of the labor unions to the contrary."

"If you think the unions have no right to do as they do, why do you not denounce them?" asked the puzzled postmaster. "The way the labor unions are carrying on at the present time is an outrage. If they have no right to do these things, it is about time they were stopped."

"Do not hold me personally responsible, Jenkins," protested Colonel Monroe. "I did not organize these unions and so far as I know have no influence with them. There is no especial reason for becoming excited because they are doing that which they have no right to do. If they directed their course along the straight and narrow path of legal and moral rights you would laugh at them. We live in an age when the question is not, 'What are our rights?' but is more accurately expressed by the question, 'What are our duties?'"

"Men are not solicitous about the exact limitations of their rights, but govern their conduct and determine their policy by exacting all within their might or power. The same rule holds true with corporations, districts, states and nations. When we watch great nations ignore the legal, moral and sacred rights of weaker and dependent nations; when we see great corporations brazenly defy the laws framed to protect the public against them; when we know that the world is ruled today not by the law of right, but by the hand of might, there is no call to become unduly excited because the labor unions have followed and profited by these examples. It is wrong, of course, and I have not a word to say in defense of such a policy as an abstract question of ethics."

"There is nothing more sacred than the right of a man to work," asserted Judge Sawyer.

"Nonsense!" exclaimed Colonel Monroe. "There are lots of things more sacred than the right to work, as you call it. I should say that the right to live would take precedence over the right to work."

"Very true," assented the judge, "but the average man has to work in order to live. Deny him that right, and you have practically sentenced him to death."

"Granted, my dear judge, but you speak as if the right to work were something that man once had and has lost. I hold that the right of a man to work and to secure to himself the proceeds of his labor is an absolute and inalienable right, but that it has been repealed ever since the present wage or industrial system was installed. His right consists solely in the privilege of asking for work. He has the right of asking. His prayer may be refused again and again until he and his wife and children perish from starvation."

"At least you will admit that a man should not be interfered with in his attempts to secure employment," amended Judge Sawyer.

"You might as well assert that a book canvasser should not be retarded in his efforts to sell his wares," returned Colonel Monroe. "You have the right to refuse to patronize him, and all others have the same right. No one is under moral or legal obligation to buy his books, and he may perish or become an object of public charity without society holding itself in any way responsible. Like him, the workman is also a solicitor. You may deny the book agent admission to your premises. You also may refuse to listen to the workman's plea for employment in your office or shops. You may dismiss him with or without cause, and he has no redress or right to complain. Not only you deny him employment, but you may put him on a black list and notify others not to permit him to work. One of our important courts has affirmed the legality of the black list, but it does not depend on judicial sanction for its efficiency. If one man has the right to refuse work to a petitioner two men have the same right, and by the same token he may be debared from a chance to earn wages in every shop or office in the land. When such is the fact—and who dares dispute it?—it is childish to talk about the sacredness of the right to work. Work is a privilege, not a right. It is something to be granted, not to be demanded."

"But you said a moment ago that a labor union had no right to prevent a man from obtaining work at such wages as he was willing to accept," protested Judge Sawyer. "How do you reconcile that statement with what you have just said?"

"The labor unions are more or less tyrannical monopolies formed as a defense against social and industrial conditions which are inherently wrong," answered Colonel Monroe. "They were not organized until it was realized that the right of a man to work had been abrogated. Except for a possible educational value, these unions are utterly selfish, and many of their methods are in the abstract absolutely indefensible. They are as savage as the conditions which bred them. What they know of battle craft was learned on the fields of industrial warfare. The chains they fasten on others were fashioned for their limbs. The rights which they deny to others were denied to them. They mastered the arts of cruelty in an ancient and respectable school, the university of competition. The slave will ape his master. When wearied and wounded capital erected the ramparts of monopoly on the heights above competition and from its vantage point poured merciless shot and shell into the ranks of those who remained outside, a few of the workers realized that there was a chance through imitation to secure to themselves certain selfish and material advantages. If monopoly be right, the labor union is justifiable. If combination for gain over one's fellows be right, labor unions are right. If the massing of money be a fair expedient, the massing of labor for the accumulation of jobs is a logical sequence."

"Despite your eloquence, the fact remains that the labor unions have no right to discriminate against those not members of their organizations," declared Judge Sawyer.

"Certainly they have no such right, as I have already said, but it is evident that they have the power and the inclination to use it," said the colonel. "We have no right to be in this post office after hours, but we are here. You informed me this afternoon that the treasurer of the United States has favored your bank with a deposit of $40,000 in cash taken from the funds of the government, on which money you pay not a cent of interest. I doubt if he has any right to make such a deposit or you any right to accept it, but both of you have the power, and that ends the matter for the present at least. It is right that a man should pay taxes on what he possesses. It is within his power to evade his just dues by perjury or misrepresentation. Not a day passes but a thousand rights are trampled under foot by might. Rights are theoretical; power is practical. We talk of our rights; we exercise our powers. Let us come down to the plane of the nonunion man, for whose rights you are so much concerned. If he wishes them respected he must use other methods than he has yet employed. But I cannot see that he has lost any of his prerogatives through the success of trade unionism. He has always been compelled to ask for a job. All that has occurred in his case is a change of masters. Formerly he was forced to obtain the consent of an individual employer. The isolated manufacturer has disappeared, and the trust stands in his place. The labor union is an employment agency recognized in most cases by the trust. The trust makes contracts with the union, depends on it for a sufficient supply of capable workmen and holds it responsible for numberless details which formerly harassed the small manufacturer. Your lady who wishes to employ a maid makes application to an employment agency. Has the maid or the coachman lost any rights worth quarreling about because it is no longer possible to make direct application to the owners of the establishment?"

"There is less loss of self respect in making application to the employer," said Judge Sawyer after a pause.

"Well, I confess I cannot see where it obtains," insisted Colonel Monroe. "The amount of dignity involved in hustling for a job does not vastly impress me. Personally I would as soon ask a labor union for permission to work as to crave the consent of a trust."

"But suppose a man does not believe in unions," suggested Postmaster Jenkins, who had listened attentively. "Take a man like me, for instance. I don't believe in them at all. Suppose I lost my job as postmaster and had to go to work at some such trade as carpenter. Why should I be compelled to join a union?"

"No one can compel you to join a union; neither can you compel any one to employ you as a carpenter," concluded Colonel Monroe. "We are all agreed that labor unions and trusts are wrong and should be abolished. When you lose your job as postmaster, Jenkins, lead the crusade against them. I would do it myself, but I don't know how."

Twenty Million Catarrh Victims!

CAN YOU REALIZE IT? ARE YOU ONE OF THEM?

And every victim caught it from some one else. BRAZILIAN BALM A POSITIVE CURE. Cheapest and best remedy on earth. A $1.00 bottle gives One Month's treatment. A Tonic and Strength Builder FREE with every $1.00 Bottle.

If Twenty Millions of our people had Smallpox, Typhoid Fever or Cholera, the said; it knows no class, no sex, no station. It is the universal malady, the yellow distemper, the disease that is the parent of nearly all other diseases, the slow but sure yellow death, the curse of the land.

Yet CATARRH is worse than either of them. They do their work quick and it is over; while Catarrh hangs on for ever and leads to sure death in some form unless the germs are destroyed and driven from the system. These germs or microbes entrench themselves in the deep and tortuous passages of the head. Brazilian Balm boldly attacks them in their stronghold and compels a surrender of the last microbes. With the head rotting away, the whole system soon becomes impregnated. It is the parent of nearly every other disease.

Forty Years Ago

There were less than 10,000 Catarrh Victims in the land. To-day there are over twenty million. It has become the NATIONAL DISEASE. Catarrh is every where. In every city, town and hamlet. On every mountain, in every valley and plain; in forest and prairie.

NEW YEAR'S IN THE BALKANS

Superstitious of the Bulgarians and the Albanian Highlanders.

Among the Bulgarians the long connection of the Bulgarian with the Greek church has naturally led to the assimilation of many of its superstitious beliefs and customs, and their festivals show a curious fusion of old heathen rites with superstitious Christian observances.

The year opens during the feast of the winter solstice, called by the Bulgarians "Kulada." Like the Halloween of Scotland, it is a great time among the girls for all kinds of divination rites respecting their future spouses, and to every line or verse of songs sung during this festive period is added the refrain of "Hey Kulada, may Kulada."

The jinn, or demons, are at this season supposed to be especially alert and powerful against mankind, and the Bulgarians, like the inhabitants of Asia Minor during the similar observance of the Fishel, consider it necessary to take every precaution against their malevolence. A log of wood is left in every cart and water in every pith in order to prevent any demon taking possession of them and by his presence rendering them too heavy to lift or draw.

The Albanians are careful at this season not to leave any article of wearing apparel out of doors after nightfall, and if by some oversight a garment should be so left it is washed before being used in order to get rid of any spell cast upon it by the supernals.

Fire ceremonies play a great part in the Christmas and New Year's observances of the Albanian highlanders. On the eve of St. Basil, Jan. 1, the fire is kept burning all night, and the half burned cherry branches rescued from the Christmas fire are again thrown on and withdrawn to be wholly consumed on the eve of the Epiphany, when the ashes are collected and strewn in the vineyard. In the morning people wash themselves and their children in "unspeakable" water and draw omens from the character, grave or gay, of the person who first enters the house. A cock is also sacrificed, for it is auspicious to spill blood in the house on St. Basil's day.—New York Tribune.

NEW YEAR'S CAKES.

Timely Hints For the Caterers Who Provide Good Cheer.

The regular New Year's cookies of Dutch days, which are displayed, say, with caraway comfits and candied fruit, have different ingredients from the loaves of cake which every housewife used to make for New Year's day. It was the custom for a provident housekeeper to prepare fruit, pound, silver or delicate cake and sometimes a loaf of golden sponge. Every one was rich, requiring an abundance of eggs at a season when eggs were more expensive and difficult to obtain than at any other time of the year.

The Christmas fruit cake served at New Year's was always made at least a month before it was needed, a sufficient supply to last all winter being prepared in the fall.

Pound cake is as rich as fruit cake, but as there is no fruit in it less butter must be used in proportion to the sugar than in fruit cake. The pound cake of today is made differently from the old time rule. No one now makes "pound for pound."

A New Year's pound cake should be elaborately decorated with ornamental icing and candied fruits. First, cover the cake carefully with two coats of icing, and ornament it in any way preferred with confectioners' white icing, using tubes for the purpose.

After this decorate each loaf with candied fruit to give color. Select for each three ounces of candied cherries, two ounces of candied angelica and two ounces each of candied red and white pears. A white pear is usually placed with the stem up in the center of the cake in a place left for it, and the rest of the white and the red pears are

Urgency.

Something must be done to arrest this rapidly spreading scourge and done quickly. Each individual must wake up, each community must wake up, the Nation must wake up and take prompt action to stop the progress of the plague. The one remedy that has been found able to cope with this putrid disease and stay its ravages is Brazilian Balm. For 15 years its march has been a march of triumph. Its cures are permanent and are numbered by the tens of thousands. For every disease the good Father has given a sure antidote if we can find it. The antidote for Catarrh has been found in Brazilian Balm. It destroys the Catarrh microbes. It clears the head of foul mucus; it makes the breath and discharges immune (non-contagious); it relieves the headache and gradually heals the ulcers, the running sores in the head, thus stopping the dropping into the throat. At the same time the cough, the asthma and bronchitis and sore throat will disappear, also all stomach trouble, caused by constant swallowing of the putrid Catarrh pus. And as your Catarrh disappears all your weakness will change to strength and vitality and you will be like your old self again.

Economy.

It will not cost you $5.00 or $10.00 a month. A $1.00 bottle of Brazilian Balm contains a whole month's treatment, and from this on for six months we will wrap with each $1.00 bottle a month's treatment of TOXICOLIA TABLETS. These tablets are a great tonic; they wake up the liver, aid digestion, strengthen the nerves and give vitality to every organ. No such offer to sufferers from Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption and Stomach troubles has ever made before. Summer is the best time to treat Catarrh, as it is not so violent as in winter. B. ## A FRENCH NEW YEAR'S FETE

Interesting Observances Among the Early Inhabitants of Canada.

Several entries occur in the private Journal of the Jesuits, recently published, which throw an interesting light upon the custom of New Year's observance in the early days of the French regime in Canada and the cordiality which reigned among the inhabitants of New France.

Doubtless at the gloomy close of the old regime, when the infamous Bigot and his licentious followers held high carnival at Quebec, the traditional religious observances of New Year's day were on the wane. Gambling, boozing and profligacy in high places overshadowed the land.

In the early January of 1758 Montcalm wrote to Chevalier de St. Levis apropos the fete of the new year, "Grand souper au palais, l'ai eu comme de raison la fete, et M. de Beau fut ma reine."

A supper, and a grand one, took place that night at the intendant's palace. Montcalm drew the magic bean. He was the king, and the fascinating Mme. Beau was selected as his queen.

When Montcalm speaks of drawing the magic bean he refers to a festive ceremony which was observed in Canada on New Year's day or Epiphany. In town or country it was customary for old and young to assemble in the evening and partake in the operation of cutting the cake (tirer le gateau). The party gathered about a large table and watched the cutting with great interest, the young people especially being eager to see who would be the fortunate recipient of the slice in which the pea or bean was imbedded. The lucky ones promptly announce their discovery. Every sort of jest and compliment was exchanged. The possessor of the bean was crowned king and of the pea queen, and they were treated for the remainder of the evening with the homage due to such royal personages.—Boston Herald.

A New Year's Message.

On the eve of the new year the Chinese merchant tears down the weather stained posters which he stuck above his door the year before and pastes up new flaming red ones in their places. On each poster is printed a verse, maxim or motto of some sort, but the general prayer is, "May the rich get richer at this door."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

A Song of New Year's Vows.
Make your New Year's resolutions.
Any little contributions
To the sum of human virtue
Will please others and won't hurt you.
Start the new year as you ought to;
Don't say, "These will come to naught too."

With your spiritual ablutions
Make your New Year's resolutions.
Swear off drinking, swearing, smoking;
Never heed the threadbare joking.
Now's the time, if you're intending,
As you should, to be amending.
Shake off habit's galling fetter
And resolve you will do better.
You won't find the execution
Easy—but make resolutions.

Make your New Year's resolutions.
Things that wreck your constitutions
And wreck your year's internal
Leave alone. Yes, keep a journal.
If you like, and still endeavor
From all habits bad to sever.
Virtue's bounds, do not overleap them;
Make your New Year's vows—and keep them.

Jan. 1 the Key to the Whole Year.

The Romans also made the first day of the year a holiday in honor of Janus, to whom they offered sacrifices on twelve pillars typical of the twelve months of the year. They also strove to be very good on that day, believing that as that day went so would the whole year. Relatives interchanged presents, and in the time of the emperors these were made the recipients of a share until it finally became an oppressive burden.

FAMILY OF PRESIDENT HAVE QUIET CHRISTMAS

Mr. Roosevelt Attends Mrs. Hoar's Funeral—Guests at Dinner.

Washington, Dec. 26.—Christmas at the White House was a quiet day. President Roosevelt's morning ride was abandoned that he might attend the funeral services of Mrs. Hoar.

Distribution of the numerous presents to the children took place immediately after breakfast. There was no family tree, although Archie Roosevelt took possession of the White House sewing room several days ago and devised a tree of his own, on which he hung remembrances to the family.

Secretary Cortelyou, of the department of commerce and labor, and General Young, chief of staff, saw the president during the morning. Commander and Mrs. Cowles spent a portion of the day at the White House.

The president and Mrs. Roosevelt had a few personal friends with them at dinner at the White House in the evening. The British ambassador and Lady Durand and their daughter celebrated their first Washington Christmas by entertaining the embassy staff at dinner, and at the Austrian, French, German and other embassies members of the diplomatic corps and others were entertained at dinner.

Japanese Statesmen Say They'll Fight Russia if He Commands.

Tokio, Japan, Dec. 26.—At an extraordinary meeting of the cabinet it is reported that it was decided to issue an emergency ordinance authorizing the guarantee of the principal and interest of an issue of 10,000,000 yen debentures on the Seoul-Fusan railway, which is expected to be finished before the end of next year.

At a dinner given by the Oriental association last night former Foreign Minister Kato, who presided, said he deeply regretted that the people had not been taken into the confidence of the government regarding the position of affairs between Japan and Russia. Nevertheless, he said, should the emperor declare war, the nation would be found ready to give him unanimous support.

Count Okuma, the former premier, said he agreed with the view expressed by Mr. Kato, and he thought it was now high time to let the people know the actual position occupied by the government. He also declared that not only a feeling of chivalry, but a desire for self-preservation required that Japan should buttress its integrity of China. Both speakers thought that the situation had reached an extremely critical stage.

London, Dec. 26.—The Daily Mail correspondent says that the note to Baron Komura, the Japanese minister, to Baron DeRosen of Russia, in response to Russia's reply to the claims of Japan, has a paragraph to the effect that only two weeks would be allowed for an answer. This period expires Jan. 7.

London, Dec. 26.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Sydney, N. S. W., cables that the Japanese government has placed orders for large quantities of pig lead with New South Wales concerns and that the presumption is that this lead will be used for the manufacture of bullets.

FEARS PROFLIGATE WAR.

Maine Senator Perturbed Over Events on the Isthmus.

Washington, Dec. 26.—Senator Hale of Maine fears that the United States will be plunged into an "expensive and profligate war" as a result of the Panama canal negotiations, but intimates, nevertheless, that he will vote with his party.

"I think the treaty will be ratified when they come to a vote," said Senator Hale in discussing the question, "although I can, of course, speak for no other senator. I do not like the situation and am afraid it will involve us in an expensive and profligate war, but I have seen no way from the beginning except to ratify the treaty and make the best of it."

"Our government moved rather rapidly, and with some prevision when the insurrection broke out, but Colombia was holding us up and meant to rob us, and as we were committed to the building of the canal by the United States and as some kind of government had been set up in Panama we were compelled to come to terms with that government, however quickly formed, and however unsubstantial it might be. I doubt if the Democratic senators can be held together as a body against the treaty."

TWO MEN IN BUGGY ARE KILLED WHILE ASLEEP.

Gladwin, Mich., Dec. 26.—Emery Sheldon and Eli Hemp, of Gladwin, were run over by a train and instantly killed while driving across the track. It is thought they were asleep.

Torpedo Boat Disabled.

Washington, Dec. 26.—The navy department has been advised that the torpedo boat destroyer Lawrence was disabled in a storm off Hatteras while on her recent run with the second torpedo flotilla from Hampton Roads to Key West. Repairs which will consume a month will be made at Key West.

Young Man Kills Father.

Joplin, Mo., Dec. 26.—Bert Barron, aged 17, shot and killed his father, Mat Barron, while protecting his mother from assault. The elder Barron was intoxicated. Young Barron, who is under arrest, says the shooting was accidental.

Earthquake Shakes Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Dec. 26.—A severe earthquake shock lasting about eight seconds shook this city and large buildings in the business center away as though they would fall. People rushed to the streets in a panic.

Will Circle the Globe.

Boston, Dec. 26.—The Rev. Francis E. Clark, founder of the Christian Endeavor society, started on a trip around the world. Mr. Clark was accompanied by his daughter.

The Beginning. "How many stars can you see?" she asked. "Two more than you," he said. "How do you make that out?" she asked. "I can see your eyes," he said. And that was the beginning of it all.

Not Necessarily Fatal. "Almost from his boyhood," said Mr. Upmore, who seldom boasts, "our Johnny has been ambidextrous."

"My boy used to be troubled a good deal that way when he was little," remarked Mr. Gaswell. "We always gave him castor oil for it."—Exchange.

COLONEL MONROE

The Lincolnville Philosopher Expresses Some Decided Views on the Tyranny of Labor Organizations

By FREDERICK UPHAM ADAMS

Copyright, 1903, by Frederick Upham Adams

The Colonel.

"I WANT to ask you a question, Colonel Monroe," said Postmaster Jenkins after raking down the fire and locking the safe of Lincolnville's office. "What is it, Jenkins?" "Do you think a labor union has any right to prevent a man who does not belong to the union from obtaining work at any wages he may be willing to work for?"

"No."

"I never heard you say so before," said Jenkins rather ruefully. "I bet the cigars with Judge Sawyer that you would say yes, and it looks as if I have lost."

"You certainly have lost," declared the colonel. "If there is any one opinion fixed in my mind, it is to the effect that no man or combination of men have a right to interfere in any way in preventing another man from doing any honest work for such wages as he chooses to accept."

"I was confident that such was your belief and so informed our friend Jenkins," smiled Judge Sawyer. "He was equally positive that you would defend the policy of certain of the labor unions to the contrary."

"If you think the unions have no right to do as they do, why do you not denounce them?" asked the puzzled postmaster. "The way the labor unions are carrying on at the present time is an outrage. If they have no right to do these things, it is about time they were stopped."

"Do not hold me personally responsible, Jenkins," protested Colonel Monroe. "I did not organize these unions and so far as I know have no influence with them. There is no special reason for becoming excited because they are doing that which they have no right to do. If they directed their course along the straight and narrow path of legal and moral rights you would laugh at them. We live in an age when the question is not, What are our rights? but is more accurately expressed by the question, What are our duties? Men are not solicitous about the exact limitations of their rights, but govern their conduct and determine their policy by exacting all within their might or power. The same rule holds true with corporations, districts, states and nations. When we watch great nations ignore the legal, moral and sacred rights of weaker and dependent nations; when we see great corporations brazenly defy the laws framed to protect the public against them; when we know that the world is ruled today not by the law of right, but by the hand of might, there is no call to become unduly excited because the labor unions have followed and profited by these examples. It is wrong, of course, and I have not a word to say in defense of such a policy as an abstract question of ethics."

"There is nothing more sacred than the right of a man to work," asserted Judge Sawyer.

"Nonsense!" exclaimed Colonel Monroe. "There are lots of things more sacred than the right to work, as you call it. I should say that the right to live would take precedence over the right to work."

"Very true," assented the judge, "but the average man has to work in order to live. Deny him that right, and you have practically sentenced him to death."

"Granted, my dear judge, but you speak as if the right to work were something that man once had and has lost. I hold that the right of a man to work and to secure to himself the proceeds of his labor is an absolute and inalienable right, but that it has been repealed ever since the present wage or industrial system was installed. His right consists solely in the privilege of asking for work. He has the right of petition. His prayer may be refused again and again until he and his wife and children perish from starvation."

"At least you will admit that a man should not be interfered with in his attempts to secure employment," amended Judge Sawyer.

"You might as well assert that a book canvasser should not be retarded in his efforts to sell his wares," returned Colonel Monroe. "You have the right to refuse to patronize him, and all others have the same right. No one is under moral or legal obligation to buy his books, and he may perish or become an object of public charity without society holding itself in any way responsible. Like him, the workman is also a solicitor. You may deny the book agent admission to your premises. You also may refuse to listen to the workman's plea for employment in your office or shops. You may dismiss him with or without cause, and he has no redress or right to complain. Not only you deny him employment, but you may put him on a black list and notify others not to permit him to work. One of our important courts has affirmed the legality of the black list, but it does not depend on judicial sanction for its efficiency. If one man has the right to refuse work to a petitioner two men have the same right, and by the same token he may be debarré from a chance to earn wages in every shop or office in the land. When such is the fact—and who dares dispute it?—it is childish to talk about the sacredness of the right to work. Work is a privilege, not a right. It is something to be granted, not to be demanded."

"But you said a moment ago that a labor union had no right to prevent a man from obtaining work at such wages as he was willing to accept," protested Judge Sawyer. "How do you reconcile that statement with what you have just said?"

"The labor unions are more or less tyrannical monopolies formed as a defense against social and industrial conditions which are inherently wrong," answered Colonel Monroe. "They were not organized until it was realized that the right of a man to work had been abrogated. Except for a possible educational value, these unions are utterly selfish, and many of their methods are in the abstract absolutely indefensible. They are as savage as the conditions which bred them. What they know of battle craft was learned on the fields of industrial warfare. The chains they fasten on others were fashioned for their limbs. The rights which they deny to others were denied to them. They mastered the arts of cruelty in an ancient and respectable school, the university of competition. The slave will ape his master. When wearied and wounded capital erected the ramparts of monopoly on the heights above competition and from its vantage point poured merciless shot and shell into the ranks of those who remained outside, a few of the workers realized that there was a chance through imitation to secure to themselves certain selfish and material advantages. If monopoly be right, the labor union is justifiable. If combination for gain over one's fellows be right, labor unions are right. If the massing of money for the accumulation of money be a fair expedient, the massing of labor for the accumulation of jobs is a logical sequence."

"Despite your eloquence, the fact remains that the labor unions have no right to discriminate against those members of their organizations," declared Judge Sawyer.

"Certainly they have no such right, as I have already said, but it is evident that they have the power and the inclination to use it," said the colonel. "We have no right to be in this post office after hours, but we are here. You informed me this afternoon that the treasurer of the United States has favored your bank with a deposit of $40,000 in cash taken from the funds of the government, on which money you pay not a cent of interest. I doubt if he has any right to make such a deposit or you any right to accept it, but both of you have the power, and that ends the matter for the present at least. It is right that a man should pay taxes on what he possesses. It is within his power to evade his just dues by perjury or misrepresentation. Not a day passes but a thousand rights are trampled under foot by might. Rights are theoretical; power is practical. We talk of our rights; we exercise our powers. Let us come down to the plane of the nonunion man, for whose rights you are so much concerned. If he wishes them respected he must use other methods than he has yet employed. But I cannot see that he has lost any of his prerogatives through the success of trade unionism. He has always been compelled to ask for a job. All that has occurred in his case is a change of masters. Formerly he was forced to obtain the consent of an individual employer. The isolated manufacturer has disappeared, and the trust stands in his place. The labor union is an employment agency recognized in most cases by the trust. The trust makes contracts with the union, depends on it for a sufficient supply of capable workmen and holds it responsible for numberless details which formerly harassed the small manufacturer. Your lady who wishes to employ a maid makes application to an employment agency. Has the maid or the coachman lost any rights worth quarreling about because it is no longer possible to make direct application to the owners of the establishment?"

"There is less loss of self respect in making application to the employer," said Judge Sawyer after a pause.

"Well, I confess I cannot see where it obtains," insisted Colonel Monroe. "The amount of dignity involved in hustling for a job does not vastly impress me. Personally I would as soon ask a labor union for permission to work as to crave the consent of a trust."

"But suppose a man does not believe in unions," suggested Postmaster Jenkins, who had listened attentively. "Take a man like me, for instance. I don't believe in them at all. Suppose I lost my job as postmaster and had to go to work at some such trade as carpenter. Why should I be compelled to join a union?"

"No one can compel you to join a union; neither can you compel any one to employ you as a carpenter," concluded Colonel Monroe. "We are all agreed that labor unions and trusts are wrong and should be abolished. When you lose your job as postmaster, Jenkins, lead the crusade against them. I would do it myself, but I don't know how."

Twenty Million Catarrh Victims!

CAN YOU REALIZE IT? ARE YOU ONE OF THEM?

And every victim caught it from some one else. BRAZILIAN BALM A POSITIVE CURE.

Cheapest and best remedy on earth. A $1.00 bottle gives One Month's treatment. A Tonic and Strength Builder FREE with every $1.00 Bottle.

If Twenty Millions of our people had Smallpox, Typhoid Fever or Cholera, what a cyclone of excitement and horror would sweep over the land. What a rush to get away from it, and what a mighty effort would be made to stamp it out.

Yet CATARRH is worse than either of them. They do their work quick and it is over; while Catarrh hangs on for ever and leads to sure death in some form unless the germs are destroyed and driven from the system. These germs or microbes entrench themselves in the deep and tortuous passages of the head. Brazilian Balm boldly attacks them in their stronghold and compels a surrender of the last microbe. With the head rotting away, the whole system soon becomes impregnated. It is the parent of nearly every other disease.

Forty Years Ago

There were less than 10,000 Catarrh Victims in the land. To-day there are over twenty million. It has become the NATIONAL DISEASE. Catarrh is every where. In every city, town and hamlet. On every mountain, in every valley and plain; in forest and prairie.

The rich, the poor, the business man, the mechanic, the laborer, the mistress, the maid; it knows no class, no sex, no station. It is the universal malady, the yellow destroyer, the disease that is the parent of nearly all other diseases, the slow but sure yellow death, the curse of the land.

Urgency.

Something must be done to arrest this rapidly spreading scourge and done quickly. Each individual must wake up, each community must wake up, the Nation must wake up and take prompt action to stay the progress of the plague. The one remedy that has been found able to cope with this putrid disease and stay its ravages is Brazilian Balm. For 16 years its march has been a march of triumph. Its cures are permanent and are numbered by the tens of thousands. For every disease the good Father has given a sure antidote if we can find it. The antidote for Catarrh has been found in Brazilian Balm. It destroys the Catarrh microbe, it clears the head of foul mucus; it makes the breath and discharges immune (non-contagious); it relieves the headache and gradually heals the ulcers, the running sores in the head, thus stopping the dripping into the throat. At the same time the cough, the asthma and bronchitis and sore throat will disappear, also all stomach trouble, caused by constant swallowing of the putrid Catarrh pus. And as your Catarrh disappears all your weakness will change to strength and vitality and you will be like your old self again.

Economy.

It will not cost you $5.00 or $10.00 a month. A $1.00 bottle of Brazilian Balm contains a whole month's treatment, and from this on for six months we will wrap with each $1.00 bottle a month's treatment of TOXICOLA TABLETS. These tablets are a great tonic; they wake up the liver, aid digestion, strengthen the nerves and give vitality to every organ. No such offer to sufferers from Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption and Stomach troubles was ever made before. Summer is the best time to treat Catarrh, as it is not so violent as in winter. B. ## NEW YEAR'S IN THE BALKANS

Superstitions of the Bulgarians and the Albanian Highlanders.

Among the Bulgarians the long connection of the Bulgarian with the Greek church has naturally led to the assimilation of many of its superstitious beliefs and customs, and their festivals show a curious fusion of old heathen rites with superstitious Christian observances.

The year opens during the feast of the winter solstice, called by the Bulgarians "Kulada." Like the Halloween of Scotland, it is a great time among the girls for all kinds of divination rites respecting their future spouses, and to every line or verse of songs sung during this festive period is added the refrain of "Hey Kulada, moy Kulada."

The jinn, or demons, are at this season supposed to be especially alert and powerful against mankind, and the Bulgarians, like the inhabitants of Asia Minor during the similar observance of the Fisheti, consider it necessary to take every precaution against their malevolence. A log of wood is left in every cart and water in every pitcher in order to prevent any demon taking possession of them and by his presence rendering them too heavy to lift or draw.

The Albanians are careful at this season not to leave any article of wearing apparel out of doors after nightfall, and if by some oversight a garment should be so left it is washed before being used in order to get rid of any spell cast upon it by the supernals.

Fire ceremonies play a great part in the Christmas and New Year's observances of the Albanian highlanders. On the eve of St. Basil, Jan. 1, the fire is kept burning all night, and the half-burned cherry branches rescued from the Christmas fire are again thrown on and withdrawn to be wholly consumed on the eve of the Epiphany, when the ashes are collected and strewn in the vineyard. In the morning people wash themselves and their children in "unspeakable" water and draw omens from the character, grave or gay, of the person who first enters the house. A cock is also sacrificed, for it is auspicious to spill blood in the house on St. Basil's day.—New York Tribune.

NEW YEAR'S CAKES.

Timely Hints For the Caterers Who Provide Good Cheer.

The regular New Year's cookies of Dutch days, which are displayed, say, with caraway comfits and candied fruit, have different ingredients from the loaves of cake which every housewife used to make for New Year's day. It was the custom for a provident housekeeper to prepare fruit, pound, silver or delicate cake and sometimes a loaf of golden sponge. Every one was rich, requiring an abundance of eggs at a season when eggs were more expensive and difficult to obtain than at any other time of the year.

The Christmas fruit cake served at New Year's was always made at least a month before it was needed, a sufficient supply to last all winter being prepared in the fall.

Pound cake is as rich as fruit cake, but as there is no fruit in it less butter must be used in proportion to the sugar than in fruit cake. The pound cake of today is made differently from the old time rule. No one now makes "pound for pound."

A New Year's pound cake should be elaborately decorated with ornamental icing and candied fruits. First, cover the cake carefully with two coats of icing, and ornament it in any way preferred with confectioners' white icing, using tubes for the purpose. After this decorate each loaf with candied fruit to give color. Select for each three ounces of candied cherries, two ounces of candied angelica and two ounces each of candied red and white pears. A white pear is usually placed with the stem up in the center of the cake in a place left for it, and the rest of the white and the red pears are each cut in six slices, the angelica in lozenge shaped pieces and the cherries in halves. These fruits are arranged on the icing in any fanciful way.—New York Tribune.

A FRENCH NEW YEAR'S FETE

Interesting Observances Among the Early Inhabitants of Canada.

Several entries occur in the private journal of the Jesuits, recently published, which throw an interesting light upon the custom of New Year's observance in the early days of the French regime in Canada and the cordiality which reigned among the inhabitants of New France.

Doubtless at the gloomy close of the old regime, when the infamous Bigot and his licentious followers held high carnival at Quebec, the traditional religious observances of New Year's day were on the wane. Gambling, boozing and profligacy in high places overshadowed the land.

In the early January of 1758 Montcalm wrote to Chevalier de St. Lewis apropos the fete of the new year, "Grand souper au palais, j'ai eu comme de raison la fete, et Mme. Peau fut ma reine."

A supper, and a grand one, took place that night at the Intendant's palace. Montcalm drew the magic bean. He was the king, and the fascinating Mme. Peau was selected as his queen.

When Montcalm speaks of drawing the magic bean he refers to a festive ceremony which was observed in Canada on New Year's day or Epiphany. In town or country it was customary for old and young to assemble in the evening and partake in the operation of cutting the cake (diner le gateau). The party gathered about a large table and watched the cutting with great interest, the young people especially being eager to see who would be the fortunate recipient of the slice in which the pea or bean was imbedded. The lucky ones promptly announce their discovery. Every sort of jest and compliment was exchanged. The possessor of the bean was crowned king and of the pea queen, and they were treated for the remainder of the evening with the homage due to such royal personages.—Boston Herald.

A New Year's Mascot.

On the eve of the new year the Chinese merchant tears down the weather stained posters which he stuck above his door the year before and pastes up new flaming red ones in their places. On each poster is printed a verse, maxim or motto of some sort, but the general prayer is, "May the rich guest alight at this door."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

A Song of New Year's Vows. Make your New Year's resolutions. Any little contributions To the sum of human virtue Will please others and won't hurt you. Start the new year as you ought to; Don't say, "These will come to naught to me."

With your spiritual abitudini Make your New Year's resolutions.

Swear off drinking, swearing, smoking; Never heed the thaddeus jolting; Now's the time, if you're intending, As you should, to be amending. Shake off habit's galling fetter And resolve you will do better. You won't find the execution's Easy—but make resolutions.

Make your New Year's resolutions. Things that wreck your constitutions And create your ill internal Leave alone. Yes, keep a journal, If you live, and still endeavor From all habits bad to sever. Virtue's bounds, do not overleap them; Make your New Year's vows—and keep them.

MORE MONEY FOR SCHOOLS

State Commissioner Argues That Children in Impoverished Districts Are
As Important as Those of Wealthy.
Recommendations.

Columbus, December 26.—The fifteenth annual report upon the school systems of Ohio was filed with Governor Nash by Commissioner L. D. Bonebrake. The commissioner reviews the history of the development of the schools in Ohio and emphasizes the wonderful advances made in the last half century.

The recommendation upon which Mr. Bonebrake lays most stress is the necessity of raising more money for the support of the schools. He suggests the following three means of arriving at the desired end: Setting apart for the schools a part of the indirect taxes now collected; requiring each county to make a direct levy for her schools; granting subsidies to those counties which, with the tax levy limit, cannot raise enough money for the support of their schools. Upon this subject, the commissioner says: "The wages paid teachers in many cases are not more than pauper wages, and often little above the cost of living in infirmaries. The results are well known. Thousands of our best teachers are leaving the profession to engage in other pursuits. This should not be permitted. The state needs their services. We wish no educational dark belt in Ohio. The humblest and poorest child in our impoverished districts is as important to the state as the child of the wealthy."

With reference to the new school code, which the coming legislature is expected to enact, Mr. Bonebrake says that much of the present code is worthy of preservation and needs only revision to make it constitutional. Discussing the form of the law relative to school boards, he says:

"The question of the size of school boards for the several districts, the manner of their selection, the length of their terms and their powers is likely to prove the battle ground on account of the great diversity of practices made possible under the special legislation of the past. Speaking generally, the schoolmasters of the state are favorable to small boards, elected at large, but there is considerable sentiment for local representation by the subdivision of the district."

In recent interviews, Mr. Bonebrake has shown a disposition to favor the ward system of electing school boards, but he does not make such a recommendation in his report. He urges the abolishment of the joint subdistricts, on the ground that they are a constant source of trouble and litigation, while their territory may easily be attached to adjoining districts by the simple process of annexation.

As to rural school supervision, he says: "Let us hope that the Seventy-sixth General Assembly will make supervision in some form mandatory, either by required supervision in each district, or some form of county supervision."

He is opposed to compelling old experienced teachers to submit to repeated examinations for certificates, and recommends the adoption of the Indiana law, by which counties recognize each other's certificates.

The centralization of rural schools goes on successfully. In 1900 seven townships were centralized. Now there are seventy township schools so combined. The work of the new normal schools is commended, and it is suggested that some credit should be given to the certificates of those who finish the courses at these schools.

As to the teaching of temperance in the schools, the report says that the subject is being taught according to law throughout the state. During the year the commissioner visited 23 teachers' institutes, 18 commencement and 93 teachers' associations, and other meetings of educators. In the five and a half years he has been in office he has made 565 official visits, traveling within the state to do it, 100,000 miles. The laws enacted during his administration, specially applying to the schools, are these: Centralization of schools, the Patterson act, the Brumbaugh law, requiring temperance to be taught, establishing the normal schools, increasing the tax levy, providing for the examination of school funds, compulsory education act, Arbor day law, teachers' pension law, fixing the power of boards of health as to schools, and the law governing the transfer of territory. "In examining these," says he, "I do not find that one is objectionable."

There are 2,954 district districts in the state and 13,115 schoolhouses, the total value being $50,006,648. There were 24,081 teachers employed as compared with 23,778 in 1902. The average wages paid in the country for men teachers was $27 a month in elementary work, and $63 for high school work.

The total enrollment of pupils was $29,620, of whom 421,005 were boys and 408,615 girls. The total daily attendance was 614,305. Tuition was paid in high schools for 3,558 township graduates, an increase of nearly 600. There are now 503,616 volumes in school libraries. The average local school tax was 5.55 in township districts and 8.66 in separate districts.

The total receipts for school purposes were $18,443,632.22, making with the balance on hand, $24,830,594.52.

SAVE YOUR HEART

Many Hearts Seriously Injured or Permanently Disabled Through Lack of Proper Care.

Much has been written about preserving the health, prolonging life, and the evils resulting from mental and physical overwork. Little is generally known, regarding the effects upon the heart of tea, coffee, tobacco, alcoholic beverages, as well as overwork, worry and various diseases.

The heart being a hollow muscle is as easily strained, overworked or exhausted as any other muscle. It is just as apt to become weak as the eyes, back or lungs. The first symptoms are short breath, slight pains, palpitation, weak and fainting spells, skipping beats, etc.

After this organ becomes weak, the circulation of the blood is deranged, which in time causes disorders of the lungs, liver, stomach, kidneys, and that terrible disease—dropsy.

For twenty-five years Dr. Franklin Miles has made these diseases a special study. His practice extends all over the world, and his Grand Dispensary is the largest of the kind. He finds it necessary to use seven different heart treatments for various kinds of heart troubles. He has cured thousands of cases after other physicians have failed.

Every one should read his new Heart Book. It contains many interesting facts which all should know. It tells you how to take intelligent care of it. If diseased how you can greatly prolong your life. How you can avoid unnecessary heart strain. It will be sent free to those who will enclose a two-cent stamp for postage. The doctor will also send a $2.75 trial treatment free if he thinks he can cure or greatly and permanently benefit you, after receiving a careful description of your case. State age, weight, etc.

Address Franklin L. Miles, M. D., L. L. D., The Grand Dispensary, 562 to 572 Main street, Elkhart, Ind.

Please mention Evening News Review in your reply.

The expenditures were $16,740,009.09, so that there is a balance on hand at the end of the year of $8,090,590.43.

The commissioner points out by way of showing the rate of growth that while in 1854 the total school expenditures in Ohio were only $2,266,457.12, they were for the year ending August 31, 1903, $16,740,009.09.

The number of schoolhouses grew from 10,300 to 13,115, and the value of school property from $3,704,720.19 to $50,006,648 in the same period. There were 57 high schools in Ohio in 1854 and 845 in 1903.

NEVER SO MANY TO ENJOY CHRISTMAS

Good Reason for National Pride in the General Observance
This Year.

Never before were there so many people in America to enjoy a Christmas holiday. Seldom has the average of comfort and prosperity in the country been as high as it is now. It is certain that the number of homes which will be filled with real Christmas cheer is greater than it ever was in an earlier year.

That is a pleasant Christmas thought. It is fine to know that the growth of the American republic means the multiplication of firesides bright with the glow of the best holidays. It means that the proportion of the inhabitants of the earth who live amid peace, freedom and progress is increasing with the development of the United States.

Surely there is good reason in that fact for a flush of national pride on this holiday of good cheer, and also for deep thankfulness for the peculiar blessings which the American people have enjoyed, favors never more noteworthy than they are this year and today. If Christmas is good in other lands, it should be better here. This is the greatest realm of comfort and prosperity the world has ever seen.

Americans should be the foremost Christmas people of the world. There is reason to believe that they are appreciative of their blessings.

DESERTED WIFE SEEKS ASSISTANCE

Mrs. Jessie Jordan, Penniless, Unable to Locate Her Husband in Wellsville.

Wheeling, December 26.—A pitiful case of wife desertion came to light in this city when a woman named Mrs. Jessie Jordan arrived from Pittsburgh. She was sent here by the Pittsburgh Humane society and sought protection first from the police.

"She was removed to police headquarters, and Humane Officer Darrah was notified. The story she told was a very pitiful one. She was married about a year ago to her husband at Beverly, W. Va., where they lived together but a short time.

Jordan was a shiftless sort of a fellow, and left for Wellsville, he claimed, in search of work. After he had been there some time he sent for her. She went, but was unable to locate him. She secured the assistance of the police, and it was discovered that he had left with another woman.

Her money was entirely exhausted and as she was among strangers, the humane officer sent her to Pittsburgh. She was given transportation from that city here, and Thursday night was removed to the home for the penniless. She wants to go to Elkins, where she has an aunt. She is in a delicate condition, and the trouble she has passed through is telling upon her health. Mr. Darrah stated that she would probably be sent to Elkins today.

IN PROBATE COURT

Wills Filed and Other Matters of Interest Receive Judicial Attention.

Lisbon, December 26.—(Special).—The will of the late Mary A. Rose, of Washington township, has been admitted to probate, and Daniel A. Rose has been made executor under $2,000 bond. Appraisers, Alex. Earsman, Sumner McPherson and John Dennis.

Elmer C. King, as administrator of the late John Lortz, has asked the court to appoint an administrator for the estate of the late George Hinely, of West township, and the application is set for hearing January 15.

On application of Taylor Temple, Miss Emma Adams has been cited to appear in court by January 15, 1904, and either take or renounce administration of the estate of her late husband, William J. Adams, of West township, she having been named as executrix. The deceased was Farmer Jack Adams, the tenant of the late President McKinley.

A lunacy inquest in the case of William Hamilton, of Lisbon, has been continued for further hearing.

Sale of real estate by H. C. Dutton as administrator of the estate of the late Eli Hennington, of Hanover township, has been approved and deed ordered to the purchaser, Daniel Herington.

BLIND BUNKOER

Released From Steubenville Jail and His Case Will Probably Be Dropped.

Steubenville, December 26.—William Wilson, alias Charles Higgins, the noted three-card monte man, who was a pal of Cameron Bostetter, now serving a sentence in the penitentiary for buncoing John Kerr, a farmer, out of $3,000, was released from jail on $1,500 bond, which ends the indictment against him. He was released through the efforts of former Penitentiary Warden W. N. Darby, who was here and took Wilson away.

Wilson is blind, one eye having been destroyed by an ulcer and the other shot out by a bullet from a farmer's gun when he was arrested during a chase by farmers. He formerly resided in Cincinnati.

The Happier Man.

A north Missouri paper asks, "Who is the happier, the man who possesses $100,000 or the man who has seven daughters?" To which another exchange replies: "The man with the surplus girls, of course. The man with the money is not satisfied and wants more. The man with the seven daughters is satisfied. He has enough."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

W. JOHNSON QUINN, Prop.

The Gigantic Shadow cast by a cigar and a man

thy of preservation and needs only revision to make it constitutional. Discussing the form of the law relative to school boards, he says:

"The question of the size of school boards for the several districts, the manner of their selection, the length of their terms and their powers is likely to prove the battle ground on account of the great diversity of practices made possible under the special legislation of the past. Speaking generally, the schoolmasters of the state are favorable to small boards, elected at large, but there is considerable sentiment for local representation by the subdivision of the district."

In recent interviews, Mr. Bonebrake has shown a disposition to favor the ward system of electing school boards, but he does not make such a recommendation in his report. He urges the abolishment of the joint subdistricts, on the ground that they are a constant source of trouble and litigation, while their territory may easily be attached to adjoining districts by the simple process of annexation.

As to rural school supervision, he says: "Let us hope that the Seventy-sixth General Assembly will make supervision in some form mandatory, either by required supervision in each district, or some form of county supervision."

He is opposed to compelling old experienced teachers to submit to repeated examinations for certificates, and recommends the adoption of the Indiana law, by which counties recognize each other's certificates.

The centralization of rural schools goes on successfully. In 1900 seventeen townships were centralized. Now there are seventy township schools so combined. The work of the new normal schools is commended, and it is suggested that some credit should be given to the certificates of those who finish the courses at these schools.

As to the teaching of temperance in the schools, the report says that the subject is being taught according to law throughout the state. During the year the commissioner visited 23 teachers' institutes, 18 commencement and 93 teachers' associations, and other meetings of educators. In the five and a half years he has been in office he has made 565 official visits, traveling within the state to do it, 100,000 miles. The laws enacted during his administration, specially applying to the schools, are these: Centralization of schools, the Patterson act, the Brumbaugh law, requiring temperance to be taught, establishing the normal schools, increasing the tax levy, providing for the examination of school funds, compulsory education act, Arbor day law, teachers' pension law, fixing the power of boards of health as to schools, and the low governing the transfer of territory. "In examining these," says he, "I do not find that one is objectionable."

There are 2,954 school districts in the state and 13,115 schoolhouses, the total value being $50,006,648. There were 24,081 teachers employed as compared with 23,778 in 1902. The average wages paid in the country for men teachers was $37 a month in elementary work, and $63 for high school work.

The total enrollment of pupils was 829,620, of whom 421,005 were boys and 408,615 girls. The total daily attendance was 614,305. Tuition was paid in high schools for 3,858 township graduates, an increase of nearly 600. There are now 503,616 volumes in school libraries. The average local school tax was 5.85 in township districts and 8.66 in separate districts.

The total receipts for school purposes were $18,443,632.22, making with the balance on hand, $24,830,594.52.

SAVE YOUR HEART

Many Hearts Seriously Injured or Permanently Disabled Through Lack of Proper Care.

Much has been written about preserving the health, prolonging life, and the evils resulting from mental and physical overwork. Little is generally known, regarding the effects upon the heart of tea, coffee, tobacco, alcoholic beverages, as well as overwork, worry and various diseases.

The heart being a hollow muscle is as easily strained, overworked or exhausted as any other muscle. It is just as apt to become weak as the eyes, back or lungs. The first symptoms are short breath, slight pains, palpitation, weak and fainting spells, skipping beats, etc.

After this organ becomes weak, the circulation of the blood is deranged, which in time causes disorders of the lungs, liver, stomach, kidneys, and that terrible disease—dropsy.

For twenty-five years Dr. Franklin Miles has made these diseases a special study. His practice extends all over the world, and his Grand Dispensary is the largest of the kind. He finds it necessary to use seven different heart treatments for various kinds of heart troubles. He has cured thousands of cases after other physicians have failed.

Every one should read his new Heart Book. It contains many interesting facts which all should know. It tells you how to take intelligent care of it. If diseased how you can greatly prolong your life. How you can avoid unnecessary heart strain. It will be sent free to those who will enclose a two-cent stamp for postage. The doctor will also send a $3.75 trial treatment free if he thinks he can cure or greatly and permanently benefit you, after receiving a careful description of your case. State age, weight, etc.

Address Franklin L. Miles, M. D., L. D. D., The Grand Dispensary, 562 to 572 Main street, Elkhart, Ind.

Please mention Evening News Review in your reply.

The expenditures were $16,740,009.09, so that there is a balance on hand at the end of the year of $8,090,590.43.

The commissioner points out by way of showing the rate of growth that while in 1854 the total school expenditures in Ohio were only $2,266,571.12, they were for the year ending August 31, 1903, $16,740,009.09.

The number of schoolhouses grew from 10,300 to 13,115, and the value of school property from $3,704,720.10 to $50,006,648 in the same period. There were 57 high schools in Ohio in 1854 and 845 in 1903.

NEVER SO MANY TO ENJOY CHRISTMAS

Good Reason for National Pride in the General Observance This Year.

Never before were there so many people in America to enjoy a Christmas holiday. Seldom has the average of comfort and prosperity in the country been as high as it is now. It is certain that the number of homes which will be filled with real Christmas cheer is greater than it ever was in an earlier year.

That is a pleasant Christmas thought. It is fine to know that the growth of the American republic means the multiplication of firesides bright with the glow of the best holidays. It means that the proportion of the inhabitants of the earth who live amid peace, freedom and progress is increasing with the development of the United States.

Surely there is good reason in that fact for a flush of national pride on this holiday of good cheer, and also for deep thankfulness for the peculiar blessings which the American people have enjoyed, favors never more noteworthy than they are this year and today. If Christmas is good in other lands, it should be better here. This is the greatest realm of comfort and prosperity the world has ever seen.

Americans should be the foremost Christmas people of the world. There is reason to believe that they are appreciative of their blessings.

DESERTED WIFE SEEKS ASSISTANCE

Mrs. Jessie Jordan, Penniless, Unable to Locate Her Husband in Wellsville.

Wellsville, December 26.—A pitiful case of wife desertion came to light in this city when a woman named Mrs. Jessie Jordan arrived from Pittsburgh. She was sent here by the Pittsburgh Humane society and sought protection first from the police.

"She was removed to police headquarters, and Humane Officer Darrah was notified. The story she told was a very pitiful one. She was married about a year ago to her husband at Beverly, W. Va., where they lived together but a short time.

Jordan was a shiftless sort of a fellow, and left for Wellsville, he claimed, in search of work. After he had been there some time he sent for her. She went, but was unable to locate him. She secured the assistance of the police, and it was discovered that he had left with another woman.

Her money was entirely exhausted and as she was among strangers, the humane officer sent her to Pittsburgh. She was given transportation from that city here, and Thursday night was removed to the home for the penniless. She wants to go to Elkins, where she has an aunt. She is in a delicate condition, and the trouble she has passed through is telling upon her health. Mr. Darrah stated that she would probably be sent to Elkins today.

IN PROBATE COURT

Wills Filed and Other Matters of Interest Receive Judicial Attention.

Lisbon, December 26.—(Special.)—The will of the late Mary A. Rose, of Washington township, has been admitted to probate, and Daniel A. Rose has been made executor under $2,000 bond. Appraisers, Alex. Earsman, Sumner McPherson and John Dennis.

Elmer C. King, as administrator of the late John Lortz, has asked the court to appoint an administrator for the estate of the late George Hinely, of West township, and the application is set for hearing January 15.

On application of Taylor Temple, Miss Emma Adams has been cited to appear in court by January 15, 1904, and either take or renounce administration of the estate of her late husband, William J. Adams, of West township, she having been named as executrix. The deceased was Farmer Jack Adams, the tenant of the late President McKinley.

A lunacy inquest in the case of William Hamilton, of Lisbon, has been continued for further hearing.

Sale of real estate by H. C. Dutton as administrator of the estate of the late Eli Hennington, of Hanover township, has been approved and deed ordered to the purchaser, Daniel Herington.

BLIND BUNKOER

Released From Steubenville Jail and His Case Will Probably Be Dropped.

Steubenville, December 26.—William Wilson, alias Charles Higgins, the noted three-card monte man, who was a pal of Cameron Bostetter, now serving a sentence in the penitentiary for larceny of John Kerr, a farmer, out of $3,000, was released from jail on $1,500 bond, which ends the indictment against him. He was released through the efforts of former Penitentiary Warden W. N. Darby, who was here and took Wilson away.

Wilson is blind, one eye having been destroyed by an ulcer and the other shot out by a bullet from a farmer's gun when he was arrested during a chase by farmers. He formerly resided in Cincinnati.

The Happier Man.

A north Missouri paper asks, "Who is the happier, the man who possesses $100,000 or the man who has seven daughters?" To which another exchange replies: "The man with the surplus girls, of course. The man with the money is not satisfied and wants more. The man with the seven daughters is satisfied. He has enough.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

OUTLOOK IS BETTER

Dun's Review of Trade Expects Improved Conditions After January 1.

LABOR TROUBLES ARE SCARCE

Collections Good and Many Orders Are Being Placed, Especially by Western Buyers—Treasury Holdings of Gold Exceed All Former Records.

New York, Dec. 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Holiday conditions pervade the markets, and most of the exchanges have closed until Monday. Manufacturing plants are stopping for inventories and repairs, in many cases the extent of idleness being considerably greater than for the corresponding season in recent preceding years. There has been a liberal volume of business in holiday goods, but reports are somewhat conflicting in comparison with 1902. An encouraging sign is the improvement in collections.

Railway traffic was not seriously impeded by recent storms, owing to better methods of operation, and earnings thus far reported for December exceed last year's by 6 per cent. Agreements are being made with little friction as to wage reductions, except in the case of coal mining and several idle plants have fixed the date for resuming work. Few labor disputes are in progress, and steel producers look for much new business early next month.

Engagements of gold were checked by a sharp recovery in foreign exchange, although receipts have raised treasury gold holdings far above all previous records, and money is unusually easy for the season. Owing to the decrease in speculation, bank exchanges for the week were 16.7 per cent smaller than a year ago at New York, while at other leading cities there was a gain of 5 per cent.

Leading interests in the iron and steel industry brought more stability to the situation by deciding against any further reductions in quotations, and there are indications that pro-

A Nervous Woman

Will often feel compelled to stop the clock whose ticking seems unbearable to her. In such a nervous condition the woman needs a building up of the entire system. It is useless to attempt the cure of the nerves while the cause of the nervousness remains unremoved. A very common cause of nervousness in women is a diseased condition of the delicate womanly organism.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases and the nervousness which they cause. It changes irregularity to regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a perfect tonic and nerve, tranquilizing the nerves, promoting the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep.

"When I first wrote you I had been to three different doctors and two of them said I would never get better without going to the hospital for an operation," writes Mrs. Selma Erickson of 105 Rice Street, St. Paul, Minn. "Was not able to do anything. It would get up and walk to the kitchen and back I would have to be in bed for a day or sometimes two days. Now I have used six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and six of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the result is just wonderful. I was so nervous I had to have some one by my side all the time even in day time, and I could hardly eat anything. I took treatment from a doctor twice a week, and every time I would go there I felt so sick, but since I quit all the doctors and began taking your medicines I gained right along. I weighed 125 pounds, when I began taking your medicines (in August) and now I am up to my usual weight 165. I am as well and feel as good as ever."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

WHY MOTHERS WORRY

Did you ever hear a mother worry over a plump child? There is no better bank of health for a child to draw from than a good supply of healthy flesh.

Scott's Emulsion not only gives a child weight and plumpness, but it feeds the brain, bones and nerves with strength and active power. Fewer mothers would worry if they knew more about Scott's Emulsion.

We'll send you a sample free upon request. SCOTT & BOWNE, 405 Pearl Street, New York.

Active purchasers don't intend to delay placing contracts beyond the season of inventories and repairs. Opinions are heard that orders will begin to appear about the middle of January, and a liberal volume of business will be placed to be done early in 1904. Shoe shops are receiving few new orders and there is little effort at present to increase activity. Eastern wholesalers are more cautious regarding additional contracts for spring lines, but western jobbers are seeking supplies liberally.

Conservatism is still the leading characteristic in every department of the cotton goods market. Mills are steadily curtailing output and find it impossible to secure advances in finished product commensurate with the rise in raw material. Purchasers of cotton take only for urgent needs and refuse to pay the quotations asked for distant deliveries. No demand for china is seen and the export division is doing nothing, prices being well beyond the views of foreign consumers.

Cotton has again risen above all records for a quarter of a century, and fluctuations of $2.50 a bale in a single session are no longer considered exceptional, while option trading of a million bales daily is not unusual. Few cash sales are reported and planters are not receiving $68 for their cotton, yet the mills that have no raw material on hand will be forced to pay these prices or else stop work. Exports have continued on a liberal scale.

Grain moved within narrow limits, no special news appearing other than a new record for wheat production in Australia. Prices are firm. Failures this week numbered 284 in the United States, against 203 last year, and 22 in Canada, compared with 21 a year ago.

DISTURBER IS SLAIN.

Forest City Miner Kills Young Man Who Makes Trouble.

Seranton, Pa., Dec. 26.—Patrick Fleming, aged 25, was shot and instantly killed by Sestus Madden, a 50-year-old miner, at Forest City. According to testimony given before Justice Gelder young Fleming, who was intoxicated, went to the residence of Madden about 1 o'clock in the morning, accompanied by another young man, and created a disturbance. No attention was paid to them and they soon departed. About 3 o'clock Fleming again visited the home of Madden alone and began to throw stones and snowballs at the house.

After a time Madden appeared at the door, armed with a gun, and ordered Fleming away. The latter, according to Madden, refused and drew a pistol, which he flourished and pointed at Madden, threatening to shoot. Madden fired a shot in the air and Fleming responded by shooting in Madden's direction. As the intoxicated man's arm was raised to fire the second time Madden shot and the charge took effect in Fleming's right side and he dropped dead.

Upon discovering the effect of the shot Madden gave himself up. Fleming was a mine laborer and formerly resided at Plymouth.

CARPETED WITH MONEY.

Former Farm Hand Decorates His Room With Greenbacks.

Chardon, O., Dec. 26.—Harry Shupe, aged 20 years, employed as a farm hand in Chardon, left here last summer to secure a legacy. He returned here this week and ordered a room in the Park hotel with a fire in it. The clerk informed Shupe that the fire would be extra.

Shupe then exhibited rolls of currency that dazzled the patrons of the hotel. The clerk entered Shupe's room later and found that he had carpeted the room with bills of large denomination and was walking over them.

Shupe admitted that he had fallen heir to $80,000, but the source is unknown. "I have had a pretty good time the last few months," he said, "but I intend to buy a farm before I blow in all my roll."

GET HEAVY DAMAGES.

Pennsy Pays $102,000 to Pennsylvania Plate Glass Company. Greensburg, Pa., Dec. 26.—The largest payment of damages ever made in Westmoreland county was made here when the Pennsylvania railroad turned over $102,000.15 to the Pennsylvania Plate Glass company.

In straightening the tracks at Irwin, Pa., the defendant company passed through a plot of ground belonging to the plaintiff and that was the basis for the suit for damages.

TROUBLE ABOUT GIFTS CAUSE OF FIVE DEATHS

Farmer Slaughters Children With Ax and Hangs Himself in Barn.

Hudson, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Brooding over his inability to purchase presents for his three motherless children, Joseph Phillips, a farmer, murdered the children and then hanged himself in a neighbor's barn.

Phillips had complained lately of his poverty and it is said his mind became unsettled. He crushed the skulls of Toto, aged 15; Frank, aged 11, and Carrie, aged 10, with an ax. The oldest boy was killed in bed and the others while they were playing on the floor.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—William Kauffman, nephew of George Kauffman, shot and fatally injured his cousin, Rosa Kauffman, in the shoulder in a quarrel over Christmas presents. Kauffman declared that his uncle's had not given him a proper number of Christmas presents and attempted to shoot him. The women endeavored to act as peacemakers and Kauffman shot them both. He made his escape and has not been arrested.

77 DEATHS AT BUTLER.

Typhoid Fever Kills More Victims Than Connellsville Wreck.

Butler, Pa., Dec. 26.—Butler's black Christmas is over. Funerals and deaths marked the day, while two new cases of fever are unofficially reported. The death list now reaches 77. The recent deaths are:

William J. Marks, aged 46 years. Attorney Andrew B. C. McFarland, aged 54 years. Charles A. Elchorn, aged 37 years.

William J. Marks was born in Allegheny county and for many years was a member of the firm of Marks & Whitesides at Glade Mills. He became associated with Dr. W. C. McCandless in the oil business. They at one time had nearly 30 producers. For many years he was postmaster at Glade Mills, and after moving to Butler was prominent in politics.

Andrew B. C. McFarland was born in Belmont county, O., and was graduated from Allegheny seminary in 1877. For 14 years he was pastor of the United Presbyterian church at Fairview. Fourteen years ago he left the ministry, read law and was admitted to practice in the courts of Butler county. The remains are to be taken to Bellefonte, O., for the funeral.

Charles A. Elchorn lived on Fairview avenue and was head layer in the Standard plate glass works.

Successor for Castle.

Washington, Dec. 26.—It is announced by Minnesota members of congress that Joseph J. McCarty, formerly city comptroller of St. Paul, has been agreed upon as the successor of Henry Castle in the office of auditor of the postoffice. Captain Castle is a Minnesota man and on the strength of that fact the Minnesota senators and representatives laid claim to the place.

Burglar Held for Murder.

Bayonne, N. J., Dec. 26.—Harry Edmund and John Hoffman are under arrest here for burglary. After a talk with Edmund, Chief of Police Manor communicated by telephone with Chief of Police Miliken of Cincinnati, who asked that Edmund be held on a charge of murder. He said a Cincinnati detective would leave for Bayonne with extradition papers at once.

OUTLOOK IS BETTER

Dun's Review of Trade Expects Improved Conditions After January 1.

LABOR TROUBLES ARE SCARCE

Collections Good and Many Orders Are Being Placed, Especially by Western Buyers—Treasury Holdings of Gold Exceed All Former Records.

New York, Dec. 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Holiday conditions pervade the markets, and most of the exchanges have closed until Monday. Manufacturing plants are stopping for inventories and repairs, in many cases the extent of idleness being considerably greater than for the corresponding season in recent preceding years. There has been a liberal volume of business in holiday goods, but reports are somewhat conflicting in comparison with 1902. An encouraging sign is the improvement in collections.

Railway traffic was not seriously impeded by recent storms, owing to better methods of operation, and earnings thus far reported for December exceed last year's by 6 per cent. Agreements are being made with little friction as to wage reductions, except in the case of coal mining and several idle plants have fixed the date for resuming work. Few labor disputes are in progress, and steel producers look for much new business early next month.

Engagements of gold were checked by a sharp recovery in foreign exchange, although receipts have raised treasury gold holdings far above all previous records, and money is unusually easy for the season. Owing to the decrease in speculation, bank exchanges for the week were 16.7 per cent smaller than a year ago at New York, while at other leading cities there was a gain of 5 per cent.

Leading interests in the iron and steel industry brought more stability to the situation by deciding against any further reductions in quotations, and there are indications that pro-

A Nervous Woman

Will often feel compelled to stop the clock whose ticking seems unbearable to her. In such a nervous condition the woman needs a building up of the entire system. It is useless to attempt the cure of the nerves while the cause of the nervousness remains unremoved. A very common cause of nervousness in women is a diseased condition of the delicate womanly organism.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases and the nervousness which they cause. It changes irregularity to regularity, which weakens women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a perfect tonic and nerve, tranquilizing the nerves, promoting the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep.

"When I first wrote you I had been to three different doctors and two of them said I would never get better without going to the hospital for an operation," writes Mrs. Selma Erickson of 412 Rice Street, St. Paul, Minn. "I was not able to do anything. If I would get up and walk to the kitchen and back I would have to lie in bed for a day or sometimes two days. Now I feel as well as ever."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

WHY MOTHERS WORRY

Did you ever hear a mother worry over a plump child? There is no better bank of health for a child to draw from than a good supply of healthy flesh.

Scott's Emulsion not only gives a child weight and plumpness, but it feeds the brain, bones and nerves with strength and active power.

Fewer mothers would worry if they knew more about Scott's Emulsion.

We'll send you a sample free upon request. SCOTT & BOWNE, 69 Pearl Street, New York.

pective purchasers don't intend to delay placing contracts beyond the season of inventories and repairs. Opinions are heard that orders will begin to appear about the middle of January, and a liberal volume of business will be placed to be done early in 1904.

Shoe shops are receiving few new orders and there is little effort at present to increase activity. Eastern wholesalers are more cautious regarding additional contracts for spring lines, but western jobbers are seeking supplies liberally.

Conservation is still the leading characteristic in every department of the cotton goods market. Mills are steadily curtailing output and find it impossible to secure advances in finished product commensurate with the rise in raw material. Purchasers of cotton take only for urgent needs and refuse to pay the quotations asked for distant deliveries. No demand for china is seen and the export division is doing nothing, prices being well beyond the views of foreign consumers.

Cotton has again risen above all records for a quarter of a century, and fluctuations of $2.50 a bale in a single session are no longer considered exceptional, while option trading of a million bales daily is not unusual. Few cash sales are reported and planters are not receiving $68 for their cotton, yet the mills that have no raw material on hand will be forced to pay these prices or else stop work. Exports have continued on a liberal scale.

Grain moved within narrow limits, no special news appearing other than a new record for wheat production in Australia. Prices are firm.

Failures this week numbered 284 in the United States, against 293 last year, and 22 in Canada, compared with 21 a year ago.

Forest City Miner Kills Young Man Who Makes Trouble.

Seranton, Pa., Dec. 26.—Patrick Fleming, aged 25, was shot and instantly killed by Sestus Madden, a 50-year-old miner, at Forest City. According to testimony given before Justice Gelder young Fleming, who was intoxicated, went to the residence of Madden about 1 o'clock in the morning, accompanied by another young man, and created a disturbance. No attention was paid to them and they soon departed. About 3 o'clock Fleming again visited the home of Madden alone and began to throw stones and snowballs at the house.

After a time Madden appeared at the door, armed with a gun, and ordered Fleming away. The latter, according to Madden, refused and drew a pistol, which he flourished and pointed at Madden, threatening to shoot. Madden fired a shot in the air and Fleming responded by shooting in Madden's direction. As the intoxicated man's arm was raised to fire the second time Madden shot and the charge took effect in Fleming's right side and he dropped dead.

Upon discovering the effect of the shot Madden gave himself up. Fleming was a mine laborer and formerly resided at Plymouth.

Former Farm Hand Decorates His Room With Greenbacks.

Chardon, O., Dec. 26.—Harry Shupe, aged 30 years, employed as a farm hand in Chardon, left here last summer to secure a legacy. He returned here this week and ordered a room in the Park hotel with a fire in it. The clerk informed Shupe that the fire would be extra.

Shupe then exhibited rolls of currency that dazzled the patrons of the hotel. The clerk entered Shupe's room later and found that he had carpeted the room with bills of large denomination and was walking over them.

Shupe admitted that he had fallen heir to $80,000, but the source is unknown.

"I have had a pretty good time the last few months," he said, "but I intend to buy a farm before I blow in all my roll."

GET HEAVY DAMAGES.

Pennys Pays $102,000 to Pennsylvania Plate Glass Company.

Greensburg, Pa., Dec. 26.—The largest payment of damages ever made in Westmoreland county was made here when the Pennsylvania railroad turned over $102,000.15 to the Pennsylvania Plate Glass company.

In straightening the tracks at Irwin, Pa., the defendant company passed through a plot of ground belonging to the plaintiff and that was the basis for the suit for damages.

TROUBLE ABOUT GIFTS CAUSE OF FIVE DEATHS

Farmer Slaughters Children With Ax and Flings Himself in Barn.

Hudson, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Brooding over his inability to purchase presents for his three motherless children, Joseph Phillips, a farmer, murdered the children and then hanged himself in a neighbor's barn.

Phillips had complained lately of his poverty and it is said his mind became unsettled. He crushed the skulls of Todd, aged 15; Frank, aged 11, and Carrie, aged 10, with an ax. The oldest boy was killed in bed and the others while they were playing on the floor.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—William Kaufman, nephew of George Kaufman, shot and fatally injured his cousin, Rosa Kaufman, in the shoulder in a quarrel over Christmas presents. Kaufman declared that his uncle had not given him a proper number of Christmas presents and attempted to shoot him. The women endeavored to act as peacemakers and Kaufman shot them both. He made his escape and has not been arrested.

77 DEATHS AT BUTLER.

Typhoid Fever Kills More Victims Than Connellsville Wreck.

Butler, Pa., Dec. 26.—Butler's black Christmas is over. Funerals and deaths marked the day, while two new cases of fever are unofficially reported. The death list now reaches 77. The recent deaths are: William J. Marks, aged 46 years. Attorney Andrew B. C. McFarland, aged 54 years.

Charles A. Elchorn, aged 37 years. William J. Marks was born in Allegheny county and for many years was a member of the firm of Marks & Whitesides at Glade Mills. He became associated with Dr. W. C. McCandless in the oil business. They at one time had nearly 30 producers. For many years he was postmaster at Glade Mills, and after moving to Butler was prominent in politics.

Andrew B. C. McFarland was born in Belmont county, O., and was graduated from Allegheny seminary in 1877. For 14 years he was pastor of the United Presbyterian church at Fairview. Fourteen years ago he left the ministry, read law and was admitted to practice in the courts of Butler county. The remains are to be taken to Bellefonte, O., for the funeral.

Charles A. Elchorn lived on Fairview avenue and was head layer in the Standard plate glass works.

Successor for Castle.

Washington, Dec. 26.—It is announced by Minnesota members of congress that Joseph J. McCarty, formerly city comptroller of St. Paul, has been agreed upon as the successor of Henry Castle in the office of auditor of the postoffice. Captain Castle is a Minnesota man and on the strength of that fact the Minnesota senators and representatives laid claim to the place.

Burglar Held for Murder.

Bayonne, N. J., Dec. 26.—Harry Edmund and John Hoffman are under arrest here for burglary. After a talk with Edmund, Chief of Police Manor communicated by telephone with Chief of Police Milliken of Cincinnati, who asked that Edmund be held on a charge of murder. He said a Cincinnati detective would leave for Bayonne with extradition papers at once.

Herb Tea

A BOON TO WOMANKIND

It is the greatest assistance to nature in bringing about the change which takes place, without disturbing the natural functions of the system. It is a strengthening tonic. It will keep the roses in a girl's cheeks and prevent that tendency to decline which so often endangers her life at this critical point in development.

The Herb Tea is likewise of corresponding value and assistance to mothers and mothers at heart of this period. Its use will at this time prevent endless pain and worry. A woman will enjoy the evening of life with scarcely the knowledge that the change has occurred. Many are the thankful women who know the value of Aunt Dinah's Old Virginia Herb Tea and are grateful for the benefits derived from its use.

Winning "Winsome Winnie"

Paula Edwards the Leading Fun Maker at the Casino Marie Tempest and Leonard Boyne Score In "The Marriage of Kitty."

Winsome Winnie, with all her winning, winsome, willful ways, has swept down on the Casino and has served dissonance warrants on care and dullness. Paula Edwards, in the leading role, is all that the title of the production proclaims her to be and perhaps even more, and her sprightliness and vivacity, combined with tuneful music, handsome investiture and bevy of pretty chorus girls form an ensemble that does not fail to please.

The play is written by the authors of "Erminie," Jakobowski and Poulton.

PAULA EDWARDS AS WINSOME WINNIE.

In its American version it represents the craft of Frederic Ranken and Gustave Kerkor.

"Winsome Winnie" has many musical numbers, several of which are of an unmistakably high class, and their rendition is effective.

Paula Edwards, as Winsome Winnie, an American soubrette lost in a foreign land, keeps the action of the play alive in the entanglements into which she falls while endeavoring to return to her native land. She dominates the whole production, and, as a rule, the stage seems a lonely spot when she is not in sight. Miss Edwards here has the best opportunity of her career to shine and may truly be said to twinkle, twinkle, like the star in the song of our childhood days.

Necessity, the fruit of adversity, causes Winsome Winnie Walker to have many adventures. We first see her as she climbs over the sea wall at the boat landing in Catara, Montenegro, remarking the while, "Well, this isn't the first time I've come in with the tide." She knows of no place to go and is lacking in the wherewithal to purchase food. Having a case full of trained "SNAIX" with her, she seeks to earn a few pence by exhibiting them to the populace. Among her reptiles are "a garter snake with a diamond buckle" and a viper who prefers to linger in the pen, "a regular pen-viper."

Later she meets a party of tourists, "paying guests" of Lord Poverish (Dick Temple), aboard his yacht Anita. She changes places with Marjorie Bell, Milford's wealthy American ward, enacted by Isobel Hall, who is in love with Desmond Poverish, Milford's son, and wishes to ascertain whether or not he will love her for herself alone or for her money. We also see before us James E. Sullivan as Dr. Krause, proprietor of "Dr. Krause's Tiny Tablets," Joseph C. Miron as Pericles, proprietor of the Plucked Pigeon inn and chief of the Brazen bandits (a separate enterprise); Helen Redmond as Alleen Poverish, William S. Corlies as Demetrius, the faithful aid of Pericles, etc.

Winnie is captured by the brigands, who mistake her for Milford's ward. She escapes and lives to learn of love and also to defy the mighty Pericles, whose ponderous frame is torn with wound yearnings for his one time captive. Desmond, however, pays court to her and finally wins her.

Miss Edwards was encoined several times after her song "They're Looking For Me," and Miron's "Montenegro Patrol" with a bandit chorus, is decidedly one of the hits of the performance. Miron, Corlies (who is an understudy of Frank Daniels) and Sullivan are excellent in their respective roles. Miss Hall and Miss Redmond sing enjoyably. Johnny Howland is tall enough, goodness knows, but why does she not condescend to come down to earth long enough to learn a few of the rudiments of stage requirements? She and W. P. Carleton are about as stiff and stony a pair as have been seen in many a moon. Carleton's habitual pose is of the wooden Indian variety.

Marie Tempest has come back to town in a new guise and in a play new to American theater goes. In "The Marriage of Kitty" she appears as a comedienne, whereas she was formerly known to us as a comic opera prima donna. The play is a treat in many ways and should duplicate here the success it won in London, where it enjoyed a run of 350 nights.

"The Marriage of Kitty" is a farce comedy adapted from the French of Fred Gresac and F. de Croisset by Cosmo Gordon Lennox. With it Miss Tempest is filling the Hudson theater, and the play deservedly takes rank as one of the notably acceptable productions of the season.

Called "La Passerelle" by its French sponsors, the play was refused by many English managers in its original form, owing to the strongly Gallic atmosphere which prevailed throughout the text. Revision, however, has made it entirely presentable even to fastidious folk, and a tinge of the spiciness remains to make the lines catchy and bright.

Sharing in Miss Tempest's triumph is Leonard Boyne, that sterling English actor who as Sir Reginald Belsize, Bart., good natured and dense, scores heavily by his clever character interpretation.

Miss Tempest is always natural. She pictures the leading role of Miss Katherine Silverton with a grace and refinement impossible in less capable hands. She rose probably to her greatest height in the second act, when to her own accompaniment she sang a French chanson in her familiar manner.

Miss Ada Farrar, remembered in "The Gay Lord Ques," is splendid as Mme. de Semians, a Peruvian widow, as also is Gilbert Hare in the role of a lawyer.

Published reports from London do not indicate that Miss Ellen Terry has found a great dramatic treasure in Clo Graves' rhymed fantastic comedy, "The Mistress of the Robes," although the first two acts are well spoken of. The scene is in the imaginary realm of a king whose queen is so enraptured by the poetry of Keats that she pays midnight visits to his statue in the garden, to the annoyance of her lord. The latter attempts to renew his antipathetic flirtations with the Countess Glicka (Ellen Terry), but is repulsed, while the queen encourages the advances of a courtier who affects a passion for Keats similar to her own.

Finally the Countess Glicka, as the good angel of the piece, brings the royal pair to a happy reconciliation. The success of the piece in the English provinces seems to have been very moderate.

Mr. Gillette's repressed style of acting never showed to better advantage than in his new play, "The Admirable Crichton." He is pre-eminently convincing and shows a thorough appreciation of the higher attributes of the artist.

Pattie Browne is a splendid Tweeny, a kitchen helper who loves Crichton—in fact, considers him a sort of demi-god—and who constantly bewails the fact that she is "so vulgar." Her facial expressions at critical times are screamingly amusing. Henry Kemble is a droll, ample earl, laughter provoking at all times. Miss Carlisle is a sweet Lady Mary, and Carter Pickford as Woolley gives a realistic picture of a young man whose enthusiasm runs away with his judgment.

King Edward's love of the theater is shown in his constant sympathy with the poor player and in his keen interest in everything that concerns the stage. With John Billington and "Friend Toole" at the little theater in King

A Diplomatic official. During the reign of Emperor Napoleon III, he and the empress visited Normandy and had arranged to spend a couple of days at Evreux. M. Janvier de la Monte, who was the prefect, learned that the revolutionaries intended to hiss the sovereigns as they passed, and so he summoned the leaders of the movement and told them that he knew of their plot. "If you carry out your plan," said he to them, "you will get six months in prison. If you do not your friends will accuse you of cowardice and treason. As a way out of the difficulty I propose to lock you up at once until the emperor has gone."

The conspirators accepted the terms offered them, and so the emperor was greeted only by cheers, as the revolutionaries, frightened at the arrest of their chiefs, had not dared to utter a sound. After the emperor and empress had gone the prefect went in person to release his prisoners, who had had such a pleasant time that they greeted him with cries of "Long live the prefect!" to which M. Janvier de la Monte, who was a man of wit, replied, "My friends, do not overdo it."

The Food Value of Nuts. Nuts are not only the cheapest source of energy; they are the best. They are made up of fat and what is called "protein." The little husks on the nuts are not nourishing, but they should be eaten with the nuts because they help in digestion.

But nuts are so hearty a food that they should never be eaten except as the chief dish at a meal; they should not be taken at the end of a heavy meal nor between meals. It is quite as foolish to eat nuts after a meal as it would be to eat a beefsteak after a three course dinner.

Nuts can be made into soups, can be used in sandwiches, salads and in other combinations both attractive and wholesome. They should be eaten with salt and eaten with all sorts of fruit. A whole wheat pudding with chopped nuts in it makes a meal by itself.

Nuts will keep you warm, give energy, and, if you do not work too hard, they will increase your flesh, but do not eat nuts to any amount unless you give up meat, for they are a substitute, not a food accessory.

A Troublesome Ant.

In the state of Colombia there is a large ant (Atta cephalotes) which causes a great deal of injury to plantations. It attacks and carries off indiscriminately all kinds of foliage, and no sort of vegetation seems to come amiss to it. The quantity of foliage carried off by these ants is immense. A naturalist recently investigated the uses to which the ants put this mass of vegetable matter, and he ascertained that they employ it to make hotbeds upon which their eggs are deposited to be hatched by the heat produced by the fermentation of the leaves. The ants do not eat these portions for food, and the larvae are fed upon a carefully selected diet. Once the brood is hatched the ants clear away the hotbed, carrying out of their nest all the decomposed vegetable matter. This is thrown out in heaps apart, and in the large ant hills these heaps will contain bushels and upward.

The First English Slave Trader.

Sir John Hawkins was the first English slave trader. He formed a company composed of the leading men of London and fitted out three small ships, which sailed in 1562. Later Queen Elizabeth lent Hawkins Jesus, a large ship of her own of 700 tons, and took shares in the second African company. She not only equipped the ship, but put 100 soldiers on board to provide for contingencies. On the second voyage Hawkins bought 400 negroes and had a narrow escape from losing them owing to the lack of water when he was near the equator. But, as he plausibly recorded in his log, "The Almighty God would not suffer his elect to perish and sent a breeze which carried them safe to Dominica." This was the beginning of the slave trade, which lasted for more than two centuries before it was finally suppressed.

Tartans of Scotch Clans.

Many Scotch clans have several tartans, such as a common tartan, a hunting tartan and a full dress tartan. Early in the day a highlander of position dons a kilt of plain tartan, and in the evening for dinner he puts on his full dress tartan, with sporran and richly jeweled dirk. For example, the Macpherson dress tartan is black and white, with a narrow red line, and the hunting Macpherson is a small blue and black and red check. The Stuarts have three tartans, and the design of their hunting tartan in dark blue and green is particularly fine. Each clan has its own badge. The Duff men wear holly, the Gordons an ivy leaf, the Stuarts an oak leaf, and so on.

Her Status.

"Why do you still call her a 'fin de siècle girl'?" "What's the matter with that?" "Why, since that means literally the 'end of the century girl' it was only used in speaking of girls toward the close of the last century." "Well, that's when she was a girl."—Philadelphia Ledger.

DON'T BOLT YOUR FOOD.

Take time for your lunch—try and enjoy what you eat. This is the advice that the Romoc man gives to his hurried friends. No wonder you have dyspepsia. You might as well expect a watch to run smoothly after greasing it with butter, instead of lubricating it with some fine oil. You cannot throw everything into your stomach and expect that organ to work well and do its duty; but never mind all that, learn first to treat your stomach with half-way respect. Learn next how, if you have broken it down, to make it well.

The way to do that is to take Romoc. It is Nature's own remedy. There is nothing like Romoc to strengthen the stomach, and, in fact, on all the vital organs of the body. You will find that by the use of Romoc in a very short time you will have a hearty appetite and you will enjoy everything you eat.

Just try my Romoc and see how much more good it will do for you than remedies containing injurious drugs and a large percentage of alcohol, which at the best can only serve to give temporary relief.

Ask for ROMOC LAXATIVE TABLETS—SURE CURE FOR CONSTIPATION. We have investigated Romoc. We know that all that is said for the Romoc man pertaining to this wonderful remedy is true, and we will refund to anyone the price of the remedy not satisfied with the results obtained. Nuts will keep you warm, give energy, and, if you do not work too hard, they will increase your flesh, but do not eat nuts to any amount unless you give up meat, for they are a substitute, not a food accessory.

A Troublesome Ant.

In the state of Colombia there is a large ant (Atta cephalotes) which causes a great deal of injury to plantations. It attacks and carries off indiscriminately all kinds of foliage, and no sort of vegetation seems to come amiss to it. The quantity of foliage carried off by these ants is immense. A naturalist recently investigated the uses to which the ants put this mass of vegetable matter, and he ascertained that they employ it to make hothouses upon which their eggs are deposited to be hatched by the heat produced by the fermentation of the leaves. The ants do not eat these portions for food, and the larvae are fed upon a carefully selected diet. Once the brood is hatched the ants clear away the hothouse, carrying out of their nest all the decomposed vegetable matter. This is thrown out in heaps apart, and in the large ant hills these heaps will contain bushels and upward.

The First English Slave Trader.

John Hawkins was the first English slave trader. He formed a company composed of the leading men of London and fitted out three small ships, which sailed in 1562. Later Queen Elizabeth lent Hawkins Jesus, a large ship of her own of 700 tons, and took shares in the second African company. She not only equipped the ship, but put 100 soldiers on board to provide for contingencies. On the second voyage Hawkins bought 400 negroes and had a narrow escape from losing them owing to the lack of water when he was near the equator. But, as he is proudly recorded in his log, "The Almighty God would not suffer his elect to perish and sent a breeze which carried them safe to Dominica." This was the beginning of the slave trade, which lasted for more than two centuries before it was finally suppressed.

Tartans of Scotch Clans.

Many Scotch clans have several tartans, such as a common tartan, a hunting tartan and a full dress tartan. Early in the day a Highlander of position dons a kilt of plain tartan, and in the evening for dinner he puts on his full dress tartan, with sporran and richly jeweled dress. For example, the Macpherson dress tartan is black and white, with a narrow red line, and the hunting Macpherson is a small blue and black and red check. The Stuarts have three tartans, and the design of their hunting tartan in dark blue and green is particularly fine. Each clan has its own badge. The Duffs wear holly, the Gordons an ivy leaf, the Stuarts an oak leaf, and so on.

Her Status.

"Why do you still call her a 'fin de siècle girl?'" "What's the matter with that?" "Why, since that means literally the 'end of the century girl' it was only used in speaking of girls toward the close of the last century." "Well, that's when she was a girl,"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Letting Him Down Easy.

"I have a very unpleasant duty to perform," said the chief. "The management desires to dispense with your services."

The office boy heaved a deep sigh of relief. "Gee!" he said. "I fought for a minute you was going to fire me."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

DON'T BOLT YOUR FOOD.

Take time for your lunch—try and enjoy what you eat. This is the advice that the Romoc man gives to his hurried friends. No wonder you have dyspepsia. You might as well expect a watch to run smoothly after greasing it with butter, instead of lubricating it with some fine oil. You cannot throw everything into your stomach and expect that organ to work well and do its duty; but never mind all that, learn first to treat your stomach with half-way respect. Learn next how, if you have broken it down, to make it well.

The way to do that is to take Romoc. It is Nature's own remedy. There is nothing like it to strengthen the stomach, and, in fact, on all the vital organs of the body. You will find that by the use of Romoc in a very short time you will have a hearty appetite and you will enjoy everything you eat.

Just try my Romoc and see how much good it will do for you. It contains no harmful ingredients, no injurious drugs, and a large percentage of alcohol, which at the best can only serve to give temporary relief.

Whiskey and Beer Habit

PERMANENTLY CURED BY
"ORRINE"

A SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS SPECIFIC.

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine eats away the stomach lining and stupefies the digestive organs, thus destroying the direction and power of the "will power," and the individual is unable to resist the craving for liquor. "ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, thus giving the appetite and restoring the health. A sanitation treatment necessary. "ORRINE" can be taken at your own home without publicity. Can be given secretly if desired.

CURE GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Mr. E. T. Sims, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I was a confirmed drunkard for twenty years, but I was cured by four boxes of 'ORRINE.' It is a wonderful and marvelous cure for the drunk habit." Mrs. E. Wych, New York City, writes: "ORRINE" cured my husband, who was a steady drunkard for many years. He now has no desire for alcohol. His health is good and he is fully restored to manhood. He used only five boxes of 'ORRINE.' Mrs. W. L. D. Heena, Mont., writes: "I have waited one year before writing you of the permanent cure of my son. He took sanitation treatment, as well as other advertised cures, but they all failed until we gave him 'ORRINE.' He is now fully restored to health and has no desire for drink." Mr. U. L. K. Kansas City, Mo., writes: "I am satisfied that drunkenness is a disease and the worst in the world. 'ORRINE,' in my opinion, will cure any case if taken as

Transports at San Francisco Being Put Into Shape for Hurred Voyage to Isthmus—Great Britain Recognizes the New Republic.

Washington, Dec. 26.—War department officials admit that the transports Sherman, Buford and Crook, now at San Francisco, are being made ready for sea. They make no concealment of the fact that they want to be ready for any emergency which may arise, and should the government desire to use any of them for the transportation of troops to Panama the ships will be available for that purpose.

Consul General Gudgeon at Panama has transmitted a report of the American consul at Cali, department of Cauca, stating that the Colombian volunteer forces in that section are disbanding and there are no indications of an attack on Panama. From Cartagena comes information of a similar character.

Philadelphia, Dec. 26.—Christmas was not allowed to interrupt the martial preparations at the League Island navy yard, where the cruiser Dixie is lying. With the arrival of 400 marines and officers from Washington the first large detail of those to go to Colon were quartered on the Dixie. Some additional stores were taken on board and everything is in readiness for the reception of the 400 marines who are to come from New York, Norfolk and Annapolis.

Colon, Dec. 26.—Colon is in a state of joyful excitement following the news that the British government had recognized the republic of Panama. This news was conveyed by the British consul at Panama to the junta.

The foreign population of Colon is largely composed of natives of Great Britain, and Britishers joined the natives in their jubilation. Boston, Dec. 26.—Thousands of persons at the terminal station last night cheered the company of marines which left for Philadelphia, from which city the men will Monday go on the Dixie as a portion of the battalion which will go to Panama with General Elliott.

San Domingo, Dec. 26.—It is rumored that the greater part of the republic now under arms is in favor of General Jimenez, the former president, who is said to be marching on this city at the head of a large body of insurgents. The provisional government is making active preparations for defense. San Pedro de Macoris has declared in favor of the insurgents.

The situation here is becoming extremely critical, though the city is quiet. There is great depression in business circles as the result of the constant disturbances of the financial situation. The financial condition of the government is very bad, owing to the fact that the duties were mortgaged in advance by the government of President Wos y Gil.

The United States cruiser Panther and the gunboat Newport have arrived. The German cruisers Vineta and Gazelle also arrived. The Dutch warship de Ruyter has been sighted.

OCEAN MAKES PLAYTHING OF A GREAT STEAMER

Menominee Struck by Giant Wave and Is at Storm's Mercy Five Days.

New York, Dec. 26.—A number of the passengers who were on the Atlantic transport steamer Menominee bound for this port, when she was struck by a hurricane and disabled so that she drifted at the mercy of the storm for five days, have arrived here on the Cedric.

The Menominee left London Dec. 2. Four days later she ran into a terrific gale and a huge wave which the ship's officers said was 60 feet high struck the ship, throwing her on her beam ends. It came with such force as to crush in the heavy deadlights in the cabin ports on the starboard side and the state rooms were flooded. Most of the passengers were in bed when the wave hit the ship. They were thrown from their berths to the floor, with bedding, baggage and everything movable on top of them.

The utmost confusion prevailed for a time among the passengers and the officers had difficulty in quieting them. When the ship righted herself it was found that her rudder post had been snapped off, leaving the steering gear disabled and the ship helpless. One sailor was caught in the back wash of the wave and dashed against the bulkhead, receiving injuries from which he died.

Three other seamen were seriously injured by waves which broke over the ship while they were trying to make repairs to the shattered steering gear, and it became necessary to lock the passengers in the cabin. Oil was used to still the waves, but with little effect. For five days the ship rolled in the trough of the sea. Captain Lucas and his officers remaining on the bridge night and day without sleep. Finally at noon on the fifth day a temporary steering gear was rigged and the ship reached Falmouth, where the passengers were sent to Liverpool and such of them as chose were sent to New York on the Cedric. Many happy reunions took place when the Cedric docked.

Three cars of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train and the engine of the Pennsylvania train were demolished.

ALWAYS TIRED NEVER RESTED

To be tired out from hard work or bodily exercise is natural and rest is the remedy, but there is an exhaustion without physical exertion and a tired, never-rested feeling—a weariness without work that is unnatural and shows some serious disorder is threatening the health. One of the chief causes of that "Always-tired, never-rested condition" is impure blood and bad circulation. Unless the body is nourished with rich, pure blood there is lack of nervous force, the muscles become weak, the digestion impaired, and general disorder occurs throughout the system. Debility, insomnia, nervousness, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, strength and energy, and the hundreds of little ailments we often have are due directly to a bad condition of the blood and circulation, and the quickest way to get rid of them is by purifying and building up the blood, and for this purpose no remedy equals S. S. S., which contains the best ingredients for cleansing the blood and toning up the system. It is a vegetable blood purifier and tonic combined, that enriches the blood, and through it the entire system is nourished and refreshing sleep comes to the tired, never-rested, body.

For over four years I suffered with general debility, causing a thorough breaking down of my system. My cousin, who had been benefited by S. S. S., told me about it. I tried it and it cured me. I heartily recommend S. S. S. to all who may feel the need of a thoroughly good blood tonic. Yours truly,

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the best tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

If you are a suffering woman we would say to you that Wine of Cardui seldom fails to completely cure any case of female ill. We say emphatically, it never fails to benefit. Every day hundreds of sufferers are writing to our Ladies' Advisory Department. The letters are opened by persons competent to give advice. Mrs. Jones was cured by following the advice which was freely given her by the Ladies' Advisory Department. Miss Owens was cured without advice by just buying a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from her druggist and taking this great medicine in the privacy of her home. No doctor's examination, treatment or advice is necessary. You have read what these two cured women have written. Is this not enough to lead you to determine to be rid of suffering?

August 13, 1900, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of Cameron, Mo., writes: "I suffered terribly at monthly periods for three years. I would sometimes go for seven months with no flow at all. Now I have my health back again and am expecting to be confined in January. I cannot praise your medicine enough."

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

Whiskey and Beer Habit

PERMANENTLY CURED BY
"ORRINE,"

A SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS SPECIFIC.

Physicians pronounced drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, even though a morbid craving for a stimulant continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine sets away the stomach lining and cripples the digestive organs, thus destroying the digestion and ruining the health. "ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and clearing the system. ## ALWAYS TIRED NEVER RESTED

To be tired out from hard work or bodily exercise is natural and rest is the remedy, but there is an exhaustion without physical exertion and a tired, never-rested feeling—a weariness without work that is unnatural and shows some serious disorder is threatening the health. One of the chief causes of that "Always tired, never-rested condition" is impure blood and bad circulation. Unless the body is nourished with rich, pure blood there is lack of nervous force, the muscles become weak, the digestion impaired, and general disorder occurs throughout the system. Debility, insomnia, nervousness, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, strength and energy, and the hundreds of little ailments we often have are due directly to a bad condition of the blood and circulation, and the quickest way to get rid of them is by purifying and building up the blood, and for this purpose no remedy equals S. S. S., which contains the best ingredients for cleansing the blood and tuning up the system. It is a vegetable blood purifier and tonic combined, that enriches the blood, and through it the entire system is nourished and refreshing sleep comes to the tired, never-rested, body.

For over four years I suffered with general debility, causing a thorough breaking down of my system. My cousin, who had been benefited by S. S. S., told me about it. I tried it and it cured me. I heartily recommend S. S. S. to all who may feel the need of a thoroughly good blood tonic. JOSEPH A. BRYAN, 44 W. Ninth St., Columbia, Tenn.

MISS ROSE OWENS,

No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual organs. It strengthens the nervous system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

If you are a suffering woman we would say to you that Wine of Cardui seldom fails to completely cure any case of female ills. We say emphatically, it never fails to benefit. Every day hundreds of sufferers are writing to our Ladies' Advisory Department. The letters are opened by persons competent to give advice. Mrs. Jones was cured by following the advice which was freely given her by the Ladies' Advisory Department. Miss Owens was cured without advice by just having a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from her druggist and taking this great medicine in the privacy of her home. No doctor's examination, treatment or advice is necessary. You have read what these two cured women have written. Is this not enough to lead you to determine to be rid of suffering?

August 13, 1900, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of Cameron, Mo., writes: "I suffered terribly at monthly periods for three years. I would sometimes go for seven months with no flow at all. Now I have my health back again and am expecting to be confined in January. I cannot praise your medicine enough."

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.
